

Gibson
NATIONAL FACTORY FOR AIR CONDITIONERS
They Last...
RIYADH 1 4022395
4022278
4022284
JEDDAH 22774
DAMMAM 8324113
TELEX: 201144

Just in time

weekend edition KABIA'S FIRST ENGLISH LANGUAGE DAILY

arab news

Publishers: saudi research and marketing company

ROLACO
Cement - Steel Equipment Contracting

TEL JEDDAH 6654109-6604701
DAMMAM 8323868 RIYADH 4767236

SIXTEEN PAGES — TWO RIVALS

VOL VI NO. 34

Kuwaitis can protect nation, says Gen. Ghanem

KUWAIT, Dec. 17 (AP) — Kuwait's air defense network is capable of protecting the oil producing country from all directions, Gen. Abdullah Fallah Ghanem, the new armed forces chief of staff was quoted as saying Wednesday.

The airforce has orders to intercept any aircraft violating Kuwaiti airspace "or even outside our borders to protect our airspace from all directions," Gen. Ghanem was quoted as saying in an interview published by several local newspapers.

Last month Iranian jets bombed Kuwait's Al-Abdali border post, on the Kuwait-Iraq border. The raid caused neither damage nor casualties but Kuwait protested strongly to Iran about the incident.

Gen. Ghanem took over as chief of staff last week, replacing Gen. Mubarak Ahmad Al-Jaber Al-Sabah.

The general was quoted as saying he is in favor of the establishment of a common military command by the Gulf states, but this was something to be decided by the political leaders, he added. "The Gulf states are capable of defending themselves and their interests," he was quoted as saying.

Gen. Ghanem was quoted as revealing that the Gulf states cooperate in their weapon purchasing programs "so that each state can receive help from the others, if it's necessary."

PLA stops liquor

ISLAMABAD, Dec. 17 (AP) — The government has ordered Pakistan International Airlines to stop serving liquor on overseas flights from Jan. 1, 1981, in keeping with its effort to Islamize the country's institutions, and airline spokesman said Wednesday.

"Naturally, it's going to have an impact commercially," said public relations manager Ahsan Paul. He said PLA was notified the ban 10 days ago. Alcohol has not been served on domestic flights.

From the beginning of the year, PLA will join the Saudi Arabian and Kuwaiti national airlines in observing the Islamic prohibition against liquor, he said. PLA, 90 per cent state-owned, turned a 73.1 million rupee (about $7.5 million) profit in the 1979-80 accounting year ending last June, Paul added.

Arab agricultural committee set up

DAMASCUS, Dec. 17 (R) — The Arab Organization for Agricultural Development (AOAD) has announced it had set up a special committee to work out a joint strategy on Arab food self-sufficiency.

In a statement issued here Tuesday at the end of a three-day AOAD meeting, the agriculture ministers of the 21-member Arab League said the committee would meet in Tripoli, Libya, next March. They did not say who its members would be. The ministers said they would hold their next full meeting in Baghdad a year from now.

Pro-Israelis lobby 'to put Percy on ice'

By Bob Lebling
Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 — Pro-Israeli advisers to President-elect Reagan are seeking ways to "put Senator Charles Percy permanently on ice" for his recent remarks in support of a Palestinian state, according to reports here.

These advisers regard Percy as major threat to Israel's interests in his new job as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee in the 97th Congress. "The Jewish Week" newspaper of Washington, D.C., quoted informed sources as saying Zionists in the Reagan camp were trying to persuade Reagan to offer Percy a "harmless" Post in the new administration to remove him from the influential committee chairmanship.

"They may get rid of him by giving him an ambassadorship somewhere, or making him undersecretary of something," one source was quoted as saying. The source described as "inexcusable" Percy's remarks on Palestinian statehood, which were made during the senator's recent talks in Moscow with Kremlin leaders.

Percy's comments, contained in a highly classified state department cable, were leaked to the press by pro-Israel members of the Reagan transition team, sources said.

"Percy is going to be slapped down, make no mistake about that," the newspaper quoted a source as saying. The Illinois Republican would not be publicly humiliated, however, according to this strategy. He would instead be "kicked upstairs" into a non-controversial job in the Reagan administration, the paper said.

But analysts here pointed out Reagan has not decided to take any action regarding Percy. The president-elect is expected to consider removal from the Senate post.

Meanwhile, supporters of Israel enthusiastically welcomed the selection of Senator Rudy Boschwitz of Minnesota as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee's Middle East subcommittee.

Boschwitz, a Berlin-born Jew has been described in press accounts here as a strong supporter of Israel.

He was named to head the key Middle East panel last Thursday. Boschwitz has very little foreign affairs experience and is a newcomer to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

According to one news report this week, Boschwitz will probably emerge as the leading pro-Israel spokesman among the six Jews who will serve in the 97th Senate.

But political observers noted that his authority as sub-committee chairman will be somewhat tempered by the fact that Senator Percy, chairman of the full committee, has also decided to serve as a member of the Middle East subcommittee.

Percy met with a dozen leaders of the local Jewish United Fund in an effort to clarify reports of his remarks while in the Soviet Union recently.

Afterwards, one Jewish leader pronounced Percy's comments "to a large degree reassuring."

"(I) say that we will never deal with the Palestinians, and the PLO on this issue until such time as they recognize Israel as a sovereign state... the right of Israel to have defensible borders and the right of Israel to live in peace," Percy told reporters after the meeting.

The spokesman said that delivery of the

(Photo by Arab News media facility via London)
IN MANILA : Dr. Fayed Badr, President of the Saudi Arabian Ports Authority and a minister of state (left) is welcomed by Foreign Affairs Undersecretary Jose Ingles upon arrival Wednesday in Manila. Dr. Badr is on a six-day visit to confer with Philippine port authorities. In a brief press conference he said he hoped he could conclude a technical agreement between the Philippine Ports Authority and the Saudi Arabian ports agency. He will also talk to top officials of various stevedoring firms who have sent Filipino port personnel to Saudi Arabia. The minister arrived as President Ferdinand Marcos' wife Imelda prepares to leave New York for Saudi Arabia to follow up the renewal of the Philippine oil contract there.

Egypt welcomes Haig as secretary of state

ISMAILIA, Egypt, Dec. 17 (AP) — Egypt's foreign minister on Wednesday said the nomination of Alexander M. Haig as U.S. secretary of state would have a "good effect on military and political cooperation" between Washington and its strongest Arab ally.

"The presence of such a man, the former head of NATO and now a foreign minister, a man with experience in strategy and foreign policy, will make the Middle East the center of interest in U.S. foreign policy," said Foreign Minister Kamal Hassan Ali.

The Egyptian said he sent Haig a cable of congratulations. Egypt is optimistic about the choice, All Said. Haig's nomination Tuesday by President-elect Ronald Reagan must be approved by the Senate, and this is considered likely. Technically, though, Haig is not a foreign minister yet.

Ali, who served as Egypt's defense minister until taking the foreign minister's job last May, is a military man like Haig. The American is expected to take a firm hand in dealing with the Soviet Union, which until 1973 maintained 17,000 military advisers in Egypt.

In a Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) spokesman said Tuesday that Haig's nomination would not alter America's policy of "interfering in the affairs of other states."

Majed Abu Sharar, in charge of unified PLO information, predicted that the United States would flex its muscles when Ronald Reagan took over as president, but he would be checked by Soviet power.

"We believe that, on the basis of Soviet superiority in strategic weapons over the United States, Haig will find himself facing genuine difficulties in any attempt to start flexing his muscles," Abu Sharar told Reuters.

In London, British government officials welcomed the appointment of Haig. The officials, who declined being quoted by name, said they expect the United States' new chief diplomat "to be a firm man in dealings with the Soviet Union. And they pointed out that this coincides with the policy of conservative Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, who is expected to visit Washington to confer with Reagan and Haig soon after inauguration day in January.

In Tel Aviv, the appointment of Haig was greeted with optimism. The Israeli newspaper Hearaz reported Wednesday that a Hoover Institute report was circulating in Washington government circles pleading for the creation of a Palestinian state and economic pressure on Israel to achieve this aim.

11 Airbuses for Saudia

By a Staff Writer

JEDDAH, Dec. 17 — Saudia has signed its first agreement with European manufacturers to buy eleven medium-range aircraft from Airbus Industrie, company spokesman said here Wednesday. He said the agreement was signed in Jeddah Tuesday.

Saudia will be the fourth Arab company to purchase European planes after Middle East Airlines and Kuwait Airways who bought five and six aircraft respectively since last month. Egypt had also bought three Airbuses.

The spokesman said that delivery of the first aircraft will start in 1983. He added that the aircraft will have a capacity of 262 economy seats and 26 first class. They will be used on domestic and regional flights.

The spokesman praised the Airbus for their "high performance, comfort and good service." He added that with the delivery of the aircraft Saudia will terminate a lease for three jumbos with Middle East Airlines in 1976. Saudia had also ordered this year ten jumbo Boeing 747s and the first order of six will be delivered in 1981, and the remaining in 1982. The new aircraft will raise the total number of the state-run airline corporation to 82, and the company expects to carry about seven million passengers next year.

Stop oil stockpile

Yamani urges Western nations to review policy

ZURICH, Dec. 17 (AP) — Oil Minister Sheikh Ahmad Zaki Yamani was quoted Wednesday as saying that oil prices of $50 per barrel by next spring are "not at all excluded" unless the West reviews its stockpile policy.

In an interview with the Zurich weekly Weltwoche shortly before this week's OPEC meeting in Bali, Sheikh Yamani was quoted as predicting a "mood of panic" on markets if the Gulf war between Iraq and Iran lasted "much longer."

The minister reportedly said the recent increase of the United States' strategic oil reserves, France's decision against reduction of its stockpiles and Japan's policy of increasing its floating reserves "are not good omens."

He was quoted as explaining that this policy resulted in buying pressure on the speculative spot markets leading to soaring spot prices and eventually also pushing up regular OPEC contract prices. If this trend (the Western stockpiling policy) is not stopped, then they (the West) will have to pay for it. Then there will be considerable price increases. That I promise you," he was quoted as saying.

Asked whether this could mean prices of $50 per barrel by next spring, Yamani said: "That is not all excluded. If the Gulf war continues much longer, a mood of panic will develop on the markets and unless the Western governments react reasonably, you will have that price already soon."

Yamani also made the following points, according to the Weltwoche:

- Access to Western stock markets for investors from oil producing countries should be "as unbarred as possible ... without too many national protective measures, without discriminatory tax barriers." This would facilitate the decision to continue to exploit our shrinking oil reserves at the present high level."

"Unless the Arab-Israeli conflict is solved ... the flow of oil from our countries will shrink suddenly and drastically ... That shock will come, even if you continue not to believe it. We will deal that blow to you, I promise that. But we still do hope that you will be intelligent enough not to let things drift that far."

The European-Arab dialogue including the Palestine Liberation Organization "is nothing, nothing at all" in the way of solving the Middle East problem. "Who just takes one step where thousand steps are needed, does not do anything. Europe talks much, shows good intentions but that does not suffice."

A solution of the Middle East question "is not possible without the Soviet Union" but the "Soviets have never made a positive contribution in the field of Third World and energy problems." The Soviet satellites—not the Soviets—will become a principal importer of Middle East oil in the mid-1980s and one cannot refuse them that supply."

Meanwhile, Sheikh Yamani arrived in Perth Tuesday night for an overnight stopover before flying on to Canberra Wednesday for talks with senior government ministers.

30,000 Ugandan refugees strain Sudan economy

By Alexander G. Higgins

KHARTOUM, Dec. 17 (AP) — A new wave of 30,000 Ugandan refugees, many of them naked and starving women and children, is severely straining a Sudanese economy already struggling with half a million homeless Africans from neighboring countries.

"They are among the most miserable refugees I have ever seen," Sudanese Refugee Commissioner Abdul Rahman Bashir said of the Ugandans. "They are carrying nothing with them at all." Bashir pointed to photographs of small children with distended stomachs, wearing only breechcloths or nothing at all. With the children were emaciated women, naked from the waist up.

The refugees, who arrived in remote jungle areas of southern Sudan in November, were fleeing pre-election fighting in the north of Uganda. With the lack of roads and other infrastructure to serve its people, especially in the southern parts of the country, Sudan, one of the world's poorest countries, is hard-pressed to maintain its generous policies toward refugees. Western diplomats say.

The new refugees came to an area where there is no surplus of food, Bashir said.

"Southern Sudan is suffering from scarcity of food, and there are logistical problems of transportation..." I would prefer to get 50,000 refugees in eastern Sudan rather than 5,000 in the south."

Sudan, also cares for refugees from Ethiopia, Zaire and Chad. "Sudan is unlucky because it is surrounded by eight countries, many of which are among the world's least stable," said a Western diplomat. "The Sudanese are nice, so the refugees keep coming."

Bashir said the country's refugee problem began in 1965, when 9,000 Congolese fled fighting in what is now Zaire. An estimated 5,000 of them remain. In 1967 some 30,000 Eritreans fled fighting between rebels and the government in northern Ethiopia. The Eritreans living inside Sudan now number 370,000, Bashir said.

The new refugees came to an area where there is no surplus of food, Bashir said.

"Southern Sudan is suffering from scarcity of food, and there are logistical problems of transportation..." I would prefer to get 50,000 refugees in eastern Sudan rather than

5,000 in the south."

About 40,000 refugees from repression and fighting in other Ethiopian provinces swell the total from the country to about 410,000. Some 17,000 have come across the border since last June, Bashir said. "The whole (Ethiopian) border has been leaking refugees into Sudan," he said. Ugandan refugees now total 73,000. Before the latest wave some 43,000 had come across since the overthrow of President Idi Amin in the spring of 1979, Bashir said.

He said he was going to the western border to check on new arrivals from the civil war in Chad, but estimated the number of Chadian refugees in Sudan had grown from 7,000 to 10,000 or 11,000. New arrivals not included in the totals may number as many as 30,000, a Khartoum spokesman for the U.N. High Commissioner for Refugees said.

Bashir said the strain on the Sudanese economy, already plagued by the high cost of oil imports and other problems, was difficult to estimate because much of it is disguised.

"For example, if you go to eastern Sudan, in some of the schools most of the pupils are refugees," he said. "In hospitals, sometimes most of the patients are refugees."

The Sudanese government has complained that it has not received enough attention or aid to assist its refugee program. Last June, the Khartoum government called a conference to appeal for more aid. Some countries have increased their assistance, but the amount is still far short of what is needed, he said. The United Nations has agreed to provide $14.6 million of the $75 million requested for 1981 from the world body. A few Western countries have agreed to take some of the refugees as immigrants.

For 2 and 3 year
Fixed Time Deposits

Interest paid annually
Other rates for 1-5 years are available.
All interest is paid without deduction less tax source.

Post this coupon to the Deposit Accounts Manager for a copy of our Booklet and current rates of interest.

To:
LOMBARD NORTH CENTRAL LTD.
DEPT. 800,
17 BRUTON STREET,
LONDON W1A 3DH.
TEL: 4083434

Lombard
North Central
Deposit Accounts

Name _____ (BLOCK CAPITALS PLEASE)

Address _____

The rate quoted is correct as time of being sent to press.

A member of the National Westminster Bank Group, whose capital and reserves exceed £1,500,000,000.

14% p.a.
Save with Lombard

AlQuraishi Leisure Services

SEASONAL PRICE REDUCTIONS

Exciting discounts on all toys during December at our showrooms in Jeddah, Riyadh and Alkhobar.

Visit us and choose from our wide range of popular quality toys.

Jeddah: Medina Road (Kilo 11)

Riyadh: Khazzan Street

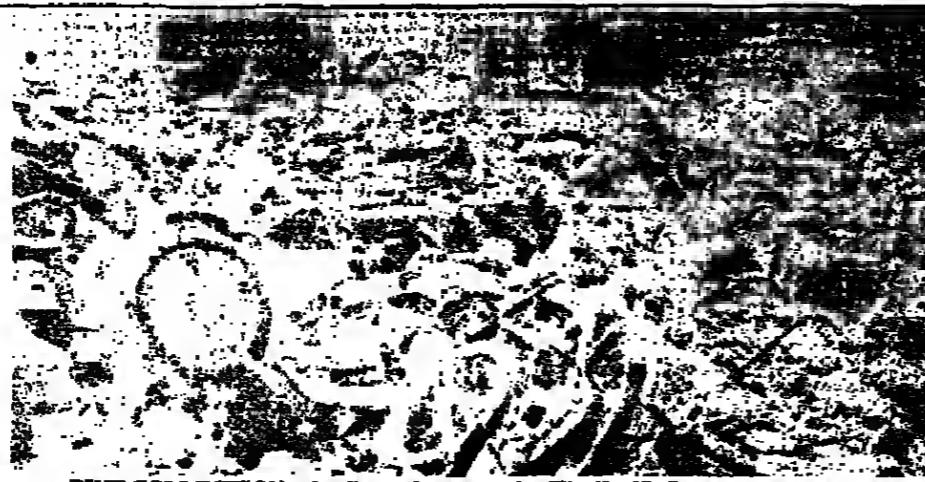

Alkhobar-Dammam: Coast Road

Cyclists endanger motorists

JEDDAH, Dec. 17 — One of the difficulties facing the local Traffic Department is irresponsible motorcycle driving, that causes about 70 per cent of the traffic accidents, according to one traffic official.

Capt. Ahmad Al-Raghab, head of the traffic division, said about 80 per cent of the motorcycle drivers cannot drive properly. They are the major cause in the loss of their lives, as well as others' lives, he said.

Most of the motorcycle drivers are under age, he told Al-Bilad Wednesday. The Traffic law prohibits people under 18 years of age from driving motorcycles to avoid hazards to themselves and others. Capt. Raghab urged parents not to let their children drive motorcycles. Motorists should obtain driving licenses and registration plates to save themselves punishment, he said.

BIKE COLLECTION: Confiscated motorcycles fill a Traffic Department yard. Owners are able to retrieve their bikes only after producing legal documents.

The traffic department confiscates an average of 150 bikes every day, Raghab said. Registration plates and licences are issued by the traffic department, which facilitates the procedures. Not wearing a safety helmet is one action that contradicts traffic laws, Capt. Raghab said. The department promotes all measures to ensure the safety of motorcycle drivers and other motorists, he said. Irresponsible drivers face severe penalties because they endanger their own lives in addition to other motorists. As a result it is compulsory that motorcyclists wear the safety helmet just to protect themselves in case of an accident, he added.

Saudi Telephone reports

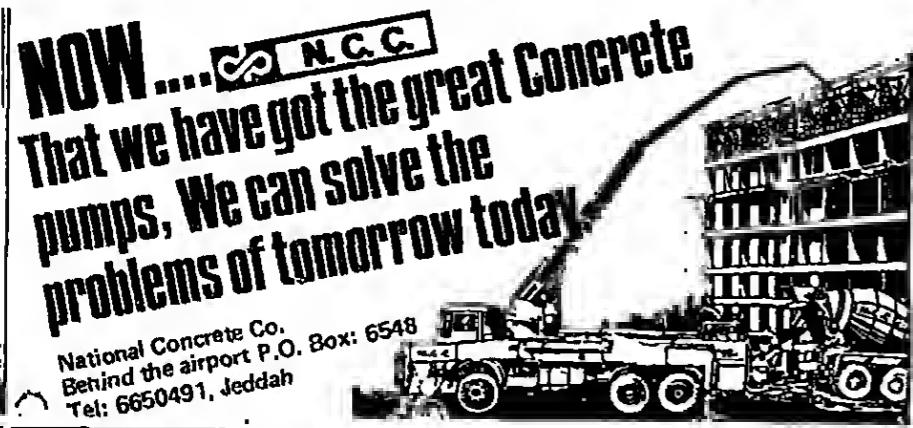

Long distance numbers become zone codes

RIYADH, Dec. 17 — The long distance dialing code "50" will be discontinued and will become part of zone code "01" (Riyadh district) on 12 Safar 1401 (19 December, 1980) Saudi Telephone's central Region Manager Muhammad Saad Ibrahim announced in a report Wednesday.

This means that long distance calls to sub-

Prayer Times

Thursday	Mecca	Medina	Najd
Fajr	5.27	5.35	5.06
Ishraq	6.52	7.00	6.31
Dhuhr	12.17	12.18	11.50
Assr	3.22	3.17	2.48
Maghrib	5.43	5.38	5.09
Isha	7.13	7.08	6.39

Put a Citizen Eagle on your wrist.

Citizen Eagle watches are handsome and accurate. 21-jewel, automatic, day-date (day appears in Arabic and English), international guarantee.

CITIZEN

Sole Distributor
Al Sabah Trading & Contracting Est.
King Abdul Aziz Street, Tel: 6438695

In sewage and drainage Health group to coordinate projects

DAMMAM, Dec. 17 (SPA) — The Eastern Province Environment Health Committee met here Wednesday under Abdul Rahman Al-Shuhail, director general of municipal and rural affairs in the region.

The committee members discussed coordinating sewage and drainage projects in the Qatif Region carried out by the committee, and a project awarded by the Ministry of Municipal and Rural Affairs.

During the meeting the committee discussed how to attain the most benefit from the projects underway and extending its operations to other areas with no sewage networks.

The meeting also covered a complaint by the residents of northern Dammam on the sea water flooding their houses during high tide periods. The discussion revealed that the Eastern Province corniche project, for which a tender will be issued soon, will solve the problems. In addition, the committee discussed other issues related to a water and sewage department project. The director general of the department attended the meeting during which the Khuraj and Muaihib project, carried out by the environment health committee, was discussed.

At the end of the meeting, an agreement was reached between the committee and the water and sewage department, that the new Dammam slaughterhouse be linked to the sea surplus lines of the department.

Meanwhile, the Eastern Province Education Directorate General allocated SR3.2 million for several educational projects in Hail during the current academic year. Dr. Said Atiya Abu Ali, education director general in the Eastern Province, said the projects involve fencing 15 schools, maintaining and operating electricity for three schools, building a sports field and a running track, and cleaning and maintaining seven schools.

Officials delay Rabat meeting

JEDDAH, Dec. 17 — A meeting of the Jerusalem Committee to have been held in Rabat, 15-19, has been postponed to Dec. 22, officials disclosed Wednesday. Prince Saud Al-Faisal, who leads the Kingdom's delegation, will be visiting Italy on Friday and from that he will fly to Morocco.

The 15-member committee was established by the Organization of the Islamic Conference in 1975 to follow the implementation of resolutions calling for the liberation of the holy city from the Zionist grip. It is headed by King Hassan II of Morocco.

Mosque council issues rulings

BRUSSELS, Dec. 17 (SPA) — The Continental Council of Mosques Tuesday expressed its gratitude to Saudi Arabia for a $1 million donation to help the council renovate mosques in Europe. The council's constituent assembly ended a meeting here Tuesday, which issued a set of recommendations including one calling for "the restoration of some mosques to the purpose for which they had originally been built."

Yemenia begins new London route

JEDDAH, Dec. 17 — An advanced Boeing 727-200 will leave Sana'a Friday to begin a new weekly route to London, according to a Yemenia press statement. Yemenia is a joint venture between Yemen Airways and Saudi.

The new flight connection from Sana'a to Gatwick Airport will provide an immediate connection for the United States, Canada and Northern Europe, the Yemenia statement said.

This trip represents yet another milestone in Yemenia's development plans. In 1979 it upgraded its fleet with new Boeing 727-200s. In mid-1980 it opened its new multi-million dollar headquarters and aircraft facility. This month it will introduce new De Havilland Dash-7s for its domestic routes.

The new route to London, together with the other routes to Addis Ababa and Bombay — also opened this year, gives the Yemen Arab Republic access to 22 major cities in Europe, the Middle East, the Gulf, Asia and Africa.

Yemen, with its rich history and culture, temperate climate and breathtakingly beautiful scenery has all the attributes to make it a developing area for Western tourists and holiday-makers. Not only that, Yemenia's progress is itself a mirror image of the great advances being made in the YAR's development as a country.

JEDDAH INTERNATIONAL MARKET

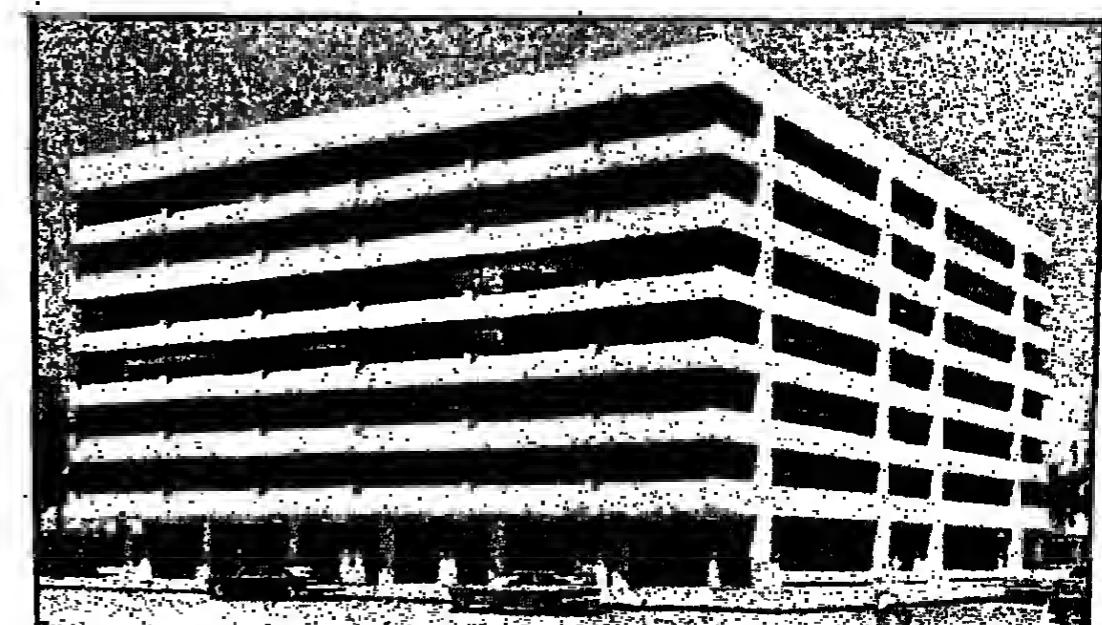

To keep up with the development and growth of Jeddah, a shopping Mall is presently under construction in the northern part of the city.

The site is located on Medina Road 7 Kilometers north of Jeddah with direct connection to the new international airport. The up-to-date design of the market allows space modulation. The market has been designed implementing the very latest techniques available. It consists of one large supermarket and 175 shops, all centrally airconditioned. The commercial aspect is supported by fine and aesthetically pleasing architecture. Parking space for 1400 cars. These features will undoubtedly ensure that the JIM (Jeddah International Market) will become the town's leading attraction.

For more detailed information please contact us on Tel: 6654170.

MAMS شارع المغاربي التجاري
AL MAGHRABI COMMERCIAL CO.

SA'AID BIN A/ALLA SAIED'S REAL ESTATES OFFICE

Announces with pleasure that : it's building in el siteen road in front of social insurance building to the left in the air port's direction which has been designed on modern scientific methods, to be used as exhibitions and first class offices, is for rent the building is consist of :

- LUXURIOUS EXHIBITIONS AND OFFICES IN AN EXCELLENT COMMERCIAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE LOCATION , IN THE MIDDLE OF EL SITEEN STREET.
- SEVEN FLOORS WITH CENTRAL CONDITIONING SYSTEM.
- THE BUILDING FACES 3 BIG ROADS ADDED TO EL SITEEN ROAD .
- SWIFT ELECTRONIC LIFTS, BIG AND MEDIUM SIZES.
- 50 TELEPHONE LINES READY FOR WORK.
- 10 TELEX LINES .
- PLUS THAT THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE REAL ESTATES OFFICE WHICH LOCATED IN PRINCE A/ALLA'S STREET IN EL MALAZ SQUARE, WILL RENDER YOU THE FOLLOWING SERVICES :
- PERIODICAL MAINTENANCE AND DAILY CLEANING.
- GUARDING .
- GENERATORS AND RESERVED ENERGIES. (FOR FURTHER INFORMATIONS CONTACT US ON TELEPHONE : 4769690 OR 4769689 EL RIYADH)

Joe in 100

To Queen Elizabeth II

Kingdom's ambassador presents credentials

LONDON, Dec. 17 (SPA) — Sheikh Nasir Al-Mangoor, presented his credentials Tuesday to Queen Elizabeth II as Saudi Arabia's new ambassador to Britain. During the meeting Sheikh Al-Mangoor expressed optimism about the future of Saudi-British relations. Ties had been undermined several months ago by the screening in Britain of "Death of a Princess," a slanderous film to Islam and Saudi Arabia.

Relations were back to normal, Mangoor said, especially after the visit of Foreign Minister Lord Carrington and State Minister Douglas Hurd. "The two countries have turned a new leaf in their deep-rooted relations," he added. He said he hoped that Britain would do its utmost within the European Economic Community to help find a just and satisfactory solution to the Palestinian problem. He also expressed optimism about the future of the Euro-Arab dialogue, hoping that it would yield results to the Arabs' problems.

Addressing newsmen after the ceremony at Buckingham Palace, Sheikh Nasser urged the Arab media to unmask the Zionist campaigns aimed at distorting the image of Islam and the Arabs. They should do so through a calm dialogue and by presenting objective evidence, the ambassador recommended.

Sultan visits military college

RIYADH, Dec. 17 (SPA) — Defense Minister Prince Sultan visited the new buildings and facilities at King Abdul Aziz military college at Inuya and inspected the work that has been accomplished so far.

He was met on arrival by General Muhammad Al Hamad, chief of staff and a number of senior aides. He was pleased with the work, he said, and proud of both the facilities and the training that is being offered to the cadets. "This academy has special place in our hearts," he said. The building combines functional design with Islamic and Arabic characteristics which follow the pattern of all the ministry's structures.

Sheikh Mangoor said the United Kingdom plays a major role in supporting Arab and Islamic causes. Queen Elizabeth in a statement on the occasion hailed Saudi Arabia's position in international circles and praised the strong bilateral relations between the two countries. The ambassador rode the traditional royal coach to Buckingham Palace.

BRIEFS

Expatriate insurance law

RIYADH, Dec. 17 — The Minister of Labor and Social Welfare has exempted expatriate workers from the social insurance regulations if their service and stay in the Kingdom does not exceed one year. Temporarily workers have been defined as those brought in on assignment for less than a year.

Plants donated

RIYADH, Dec. 17 — Jordan has donated 50,000 nursery plants to Jeddah municipality as a contribution to the campaign to make the city a greener place.

Research Center planned

QURAYAT, Dec. 17 — A new research center for agriculture and animal husbandry will be set up in this northern town in collaboration with the Food and Agricultural Organization, according to Abdulla Al Nakhl, director general of agriculture and water in the Northern Region.

Youth house to open

RIYADH, Dec. 17 — Riyad Governor Prince Salman will open a new youth house here next week. The function will be attended by Prince Faisal ibn Fahd, president of youth welfare and other senior officials.

Koran institute budget increase

JEDDAH, Dec. 17 — Sheikh Muhammad Ali Al-Harkan, the secretary general of the Mecca-based Muslim World League, agreed Tuesday to double the budget of the Koranic Studies Institute in Mauritania, according to Dr. Abdul Sabur Marzooq, the league's director general.

Educators to visit

JEDDAH, Dec. 17 — A delegation of Qatari educators will visit here next week for talks with Saudi Arabian colleagues about education in the two countries.

Museum opening scheduled

RIYADH, Dec. 17 — Several museums will be opened and equipped in various parts of the country in the near future according to official sources of the department of antiquities here.

Jeddah Airport opening

RIYADH, Dec. 17 — The new King Abdul Aziz International Airport in Jeddah will be dedicated within four months, Sheikh Nasser Al-Assaf, the head of the Civil Aviation Board said Wednesday. The present airport, which is in the center of the city, will then be handed over to Jeddah municipality.

CREDENTIALS : King Khaled receives the credentials from New Zealand's Ambassador James Weir.

King receives ambassadors

RIYADH, Dec. 17 (SPA) — Six new ambassadors submitted credentials to King Khaled Tuesday at his palace in Riyadh. The envoys include Portuguese Ambassador Pedro Alvez, New Zealand Ambassador James Weir, Bahraini Ambassador Ibrahim Ali Ibrahim, Belgian Ambassador Jacques Melsens, the Burundi ambassador and the Mauritius ambassador.

VISITING : Portuguese Ambassador Pedro Alvez holds a conversation with the King upon presenting his credentials.

COMMENT

By Mohammad Omar Al-Amoudi
Al Madina

Mecca always has been known for its houses of scholarly pursuits. Its biggest house of learning, the Holy Haram, produced a large number of ulema who, in different ages, contributed to the development and growth of Arabic, jurisprudence, judiciary and the interpretation of the Holy Quran.

The holy city also earned a good name in producing women scholars. A search into history reveals that the Meccan family of Al-Tabari had produced a large number of men and women scholars between the sixth and the 12th centuries of the Islamic calendar. The great writer, Abdul Qudous Al-Ansari, says that women scholars/translators of this particular family exceeded the ulema of their time, and were frequently pursued by the ulema and students for lessons in Arabic, sciences and the Traditions of the Holy Prophet.

But Mecca does no longer hold that position from the aspect of knowledge. It has, regrettably, lost that old phenomenon which used to dominate the life of our predecessors. Barreling a few families which still have maintained the old tradition of knowledge with utmost care, today we find a great dearth of the houses of learning for which Mecca had been known through the ages.

But for the paucity of space, I'd would have loved to mention the names of the institutions which had earned reputation for knowledge and scholars through different ages in Mecca, Medina, Jeddah and Taif. Since the present generation has been gripped with a wave of modern studies, we no longer come across such people who continue the march on the old track, nor even those who could encourage them to follow the steps of their ancestors.

CHILD-LAND
WE HAVE EVERYTHING FOR YOUNG CHILDREN AND TEENAGERS.
AT SITTEEN STREET, JEDDAH NEAR AMERICAN FURNITURE TEL: 6658300

El-Ajou CAMERAS

ITT AUTOMATIC POCKET CAMERA WITH FLASH!

RIYADH: KING FAISAL ST. - TEL: 4623718
RIYADH: RAYHA STREET - TEL: 4623783
JEDDAH: KING ABUD AZIZ ST. - TEL: 22794
JEDDAH: KING ABUD AZIZ ST. - TEL: 22795
AL-KHOR: PRINCE MOHD ST. - TEL: 864-8625
AL-KHOR: PRINCE MOHD ST. - TEL: 864-8626
DHAHRAN: KING KHALID ST. - TEL: 864-1724
DHARAN: DHARAN AIRPORT - TEL: 2251-2252
JUBAIL: KING FAISAL ST. - TEL: 3616116
YAHUDI: KING ABUD AZIZ ST. - TEL: 26064
MEETTAH: MEYA AL-SAFRA - TEL: 321-4022

دبيوكولوت

Deocologne Spray

Perfect Body-Freshness for the whole day

GAZZAZ G قىلى

MECCA - JEDDAH - RIYADH - AL KHOBAR

A most modern Tire Center in Saudi Arabia now at your Service

A MODERN NEW FACILITY

Now, a modern new facility specially built to offer all motorists a full range of quality tires and complete tire service. It's your one source stop for the purchase, mounting, balancing and alignment of quality tires. We do it all. No other servicing is needed.

EXPERTLY TRAINED TECHNICIANS

Expertly trained technicians using the most up-to-date MOUNTING, BALANCING and WHEEL ALIGNMENT equipment available assure you of longer wear and worry-free performance.

A COMPLETE LINE OF QUALITY TIRES

A full selection of high performance tires for most American, Japanese and European cars. All with Goodyear quality and dependability tied-in with top service.

AL-QAHTANI MARITIME

DAMMAM-TELEPHONES: 8575286, 8575287

New peace conference on Chad set for Dec. 23

YAOUNDE, Cameroon, Dec. 17 (Agencies) — A new peace conference aimed at settling nearly two decades of civil strife in the North Central African nation of Chad has been set for Dec. 23 in Lagos, Nigeria. Cameroon President Ahmadou Ahidjo announced.

After Tuesday night's announcement, sources in Yaounde said rebel leader Hissene Habre and President Goukouni Oueddei will participate in the conference.

Habre, former defense minister in the transitional government, fled N'Djamena, Chad's capital, into neighboring Cameroon on Monday, abandoning the city after a struggle that began nearly nine months ago.

Habre signed a ceasefire agreement Tuesday in Cameroon after his forces were driven from the capital by a government offensive backed by Libyan tanks, jet fighters and infantrymen.

Goukouni signed the ceasefire agreement in Lome, Togo, last month. Under the Lome agreement, Chad would be placed temporarily under the control of an African commission made up of Togo, Guinea, Benin and the Congo Republic, backed by a joint African peace force from the four countries. It also requires all troops to withdraw at least 100 kilometers from N'Djamena.

Habre said he still considered the Chad government "illegal" and "illegitimate" and vowed to continue his struggle against it.

Habre said his troops, most of whom reportedly left during the night of Sunday to Monday for his eastern Chad base of Abeche, had effected a "tactical retreat."

"The struggle continues," he said, and promised to return to Chad. He had crossed the Chari River into Cameroon as his men left N'Djamena.

Habre, in signing the ceasefire agreement, stressed that he rejected the participation of Libya and Benin in the settlement of the Chadian conflict. It was Libya's armed role that he had cited in refusing to sign until now.

Repression hurting Israel, expelled Arab mayors say

UNITED NATIONS, Dec. 17 (AP) — Israel is hurting its own cause by taking harsh measures against moderate Palestinians who are willing to live side-by-side with the Jewish state, say two Arab mayors expelled from the West Bank.

Muhammed Milhem of Halhoul, who was expelled by Israeli authorities on Dec. 5, charged that Israel is attempting to muzzle, discredit or expel politically influential Palestinians from the West Bank.

Milhem and another expelled mayor, Fahd Kawasmeh of Hebron, have come to New York to take their case to the U.N. Security Council, hoping to bring international pressure on Israel. They were interviewed in their hotel room across from U.N. headquarters.

"If I were an Israeli, I would tell the Israeli politicians, 'stop it. You are endangering the lives of our future generations' and we don't want to be bombed every 40 or 50 years," said Milhem. "We don't want it either."

He said Israel wanted to "isolate the leadership from their people in the hope the people will bow to autonomy and Camp David."

"What do they (the Israelis) mean by moderate? Those who accept occupation forever...who accept settlements? If that's what they mean, we are not moderates. No (Palestinian) accepts this," Kawasmeh said.

"We want to live with the Israelis two states, side by side," Milhem said. "We want an innocent state. We will prove to the world that the Palestinians want to live in peace. We don't want tanks. We don't want Phantoms or MiGs."

Turkey pledges to halt torture of detainees

ANKARA, Dec. 17 (OFNS) — A pledge to prevent torture of political detainees was given by the prime minister of Turkey's military regime, retired Admiral Bulent Ulusu, at a news conference in Ankara last week. His statement followed allegations in a local magazine, and in a recent Amnesty International report, that eight detainees have died in uncertain circumstances while in custody.

Turkish laws, Ulusu asserted, "categorically prohibit torture and any action incompatible with human dignity against detainees." This government was determined to "implement meticulously" these laws, and would thoroughly investigate all allegations brought to its notice. At the moment, he said, no specific cases were before it.

Questioned about the eight deaths in custody, Ulusu said the allegations were "not based on fact but on gossip."

Since the military takeover on Sept. 12, about 12,000 people have been detained for suspected offenses against the state, including terrorism. More than 3,000 have since been released. The case which has aroused the greatest concern is that of a left-wing publisher, Ilhan Erdost, who according to available evidence — was beaten to death by a squad of soldiers escorting him to a detention center in Ankara.

The military regime promptly set up the inquiry and nine soldiers were arrested, five of whom face court-martial charges.

It is generally accepted that the ruling military council, and the Ulusu government which works under its direction, are sincere in their desire to prevent ill-treatment of detainees. They do not wish to incur the odium that attached to the martial law commanders of 1971-73, when brutalities were rife.

The military regime promptly set up the inquiry and nine soldiers were arrested, five of whom face court-martial charges.

It is generally accepted that the ruling military council, and the Ulusu government which works under its direction, are sincere in their desire to prevent ill-treatment of detainees. They do not wish to incur the odium that attached to the martial law commanders of 1971-73, when brutalities were rife.

By annexing East Jerusalem, a part of the West Bank, Israelis can now continue colonizing the West Bank and leave nothing to negotiate, violating the Camp David agreements," Fahmi was quoted as saying.

The Camp David accords and the peace treaty signed by Egypt and Israel with the United States as a mediator calls on the parties to negotiate some form of self-rule for 1.5 million Palestinians living in the West Bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip. Israel occupied these territories in the wake of the 1967 Mideast war.

Egypt suspended the talks in August following an Israeli parliament decision to unilaterally annex predominantly Arab East Jerusalem as part of the Jewish state's capital.

Egypt considers East Jerusalem an integral part of the West Bank.

Fahmi was quoted as saying: Egypt could legitimately freeze all talks without being accused of violating the peace accords as "Israel has already done that with its Jerusalem decision."

He added that there could be no solution to the Palestinian problem without the creation of a Palestinian state, the paper said. Fahmi suggested a United Nations mandate over the proposed Palestinian nation, with an international committee to supervise the transition to full statehood.

Ismail Fahmi calls for freezing talks with Israel

CAIRO, Dec. 17 (AP) — Former Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmi, who resigned his post over Egypt's peace moves with Israel, has called on his government to freeze peace talks with the Jewish state because of its policy on Jerusalem.

In an interview with the weekly Al-Sheab newspaper, organ of the opposition Labor Socialist Party, Fahmi called the Egyptian-Israeli-American Camp David accord and the ensuing peace treaty "null and void."

"By annexing East Jerusalem, a part of the West Bank, Israelis can now continue colonizing the West Bank and leave nothing to negotiate, violating the Camp David agreements," Fahmi was quoted as saying.

The Camp David accords and the peace treaty signed by Egypt and Israel with the United States as a mediator calls on the parties to negotiate some form of self-rule for 1.5 million Palestinians living in the West Bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip. Israel occupied these territories in the wake of the 1967 Mideast war.

Egypt suspended the talks in August following an Israeli parliament decision to unilaterally annex predominantly Arab East Jerusalem as part of the Jewish state's capital.

Egypt considers East Jerusalem an integral part of the West Bank.

Fahmi was quoted as saying: Egypt could legitimately freeze all talks without being accused of violating the peace accords as "Israel has already done that with its Jerusalem decision."

He added that there could be no solution to the Palestinian problem without the creation of a Palestinian state, the paper said. Fahmi suggested a United Nations mandate over the proposed Palestinian nation, with an international committee to supervise the transition to full statehood.

Armenians claim responsibility

Turkish consul slain in Sydney

SYDNEY, Dec. 17 (R) — The Turkish consul-general in Sydney and his bodyguard were killed Wednesday when two men on a motorcycle sprayed their car with gunfire in a Sydney suburb, police said. An Armenian guerrilla group claimed responsibility. The consul, Sarik Ariyak, was dead before ambulance men arrived on the scene and the bodyguard, Engin Sever, died in hospital, police said.

They said the killers fired an automatic pistol into the car and then escaped. The car crashed into a fence.

Israeli government fails to agree on austere budget

TEL AVIV, Dec. 17 (Agencies) — Israel's Finance Minister Yigael Hurwitz battled with his cabinet colleagues Tuesday to push through an austerity budget to rescue the nation from three-figure inflation. Political sources said ministers argued at length over Hurwitz's proposals to cut back departmental spending, freeze prices and reduce compensation payments now made to workers as a shield against soaring prices.

Ministers fear the measures proposed by Hurwitz would diminish their already low popularity ratings and bring certain electoral defeat for the government of Prime Minister Menachem Begin, which must face a general election within the next 11 months.

The cabinet debate came a day after the government announced a rise in consumer

A woman claiming to represent "the justic commandos of the Armenian genocide" telephoned the Australian Associated Press news agency 40 minutes after the shooting to claim responsibility.

She said the killing was "in retaliation for the injustices done to the Armenians by the Turks."

The group, which has previously claimed responsibility for murdering about a dozen Turkish diplomats or their relatives in Europe since 1975, would strike again, she said.

Israeli government fails to agree on austere budget

TEL AVIV, Dec. 17 (Agencies) — Israel's Finance Minister Yigael Hurwitz battled with his cabinet colleagues Tuesday to push through an austerity budget to rescue the nation from three-figure inflation. Political sources said ministers argued at length over Hurwitz's proposals to cut back departmental spending, freeze prices and reduce compensation payments now made to workers as a shield against soaring prices.

Ministers fear the measures proposed by Hurwitz would diminish their already low popularity ratings and bring certain electoral defeat for the government of Prime Minister Menachem Begin, which must face a general election within the next 11 months.

The cabinet debate came a day after the government announced a rise in consumer prices of 9.4 per cent for the month of November. This brought the inflation rate for the 12 months since November, 1979 to 137.6 per cent.

The budget is believed to total about $12 billion, roughly one third of it for defense. Official figures have not been released.

After the cabinet meeting a spokesman said the matter had been passed on to the cabinet's economic committee which would discuss the measures on Thursday.

Political sources said several ministers staunchly resisted the spending cuts that Hurwitz asked of them. In particular there was strong opposition to the cuts he wanted to make in the defense budget.

Israel's Chief of Staff, Lt. Gen. Rafael Eitan, attended the cabinet session.

Abu Diyah RENT-A-CAR

ABT

BULK & BAGGED CEMENT

Arabian Bulk Trade Ltd.
P.O. Box 2194 Al Khobar, Saudi 670304
Riyadh Tel: 4789223 Telex: 201175 XENEL SJ

Korean introduce the only non-stop flight from Dhahran to Sri Lanka.

Korean Air Lines now take you straight to beautiful Colombo every Tuesday, with B707.

And because you're flying Korean, you'll discover how it feels to be a guest in a Korean home. It shows in the quiet, efficient service, the concern our hostesses have for your comfort, and in the warm, natural way we care for all your in-flight needs.

Korean offers you hospitality no other airline can match. That's just one of the reasons Korean is fast becoming Asia's leading international airline.

Come fly Korean and spend a few pleasant hours as our honored guest.

KOREAN AIR LINES

We treat you as an honored guest

CALL KOREAN AIRLINES

Jeddah
6443440
6426354

Riyadh
4646583
4656703

	DEPARTURE	ARRIVAL
KL 805	COLOMBO Tuesday 01:00	DHAHRAN Tuesday 03:20
KE 806	DHAHRAN Tuesday 13:50	COLOMBO Tuesday 20:50

In cooperation with Saudia

البنك السعودي البريطاني
The Saudi British Bank has pleasure in announcing that its new branch in

RIYADH
on SHARIAH DABAAB opened Monday 15th December 1980
(8th Safar 1401)

All telegraphic and postal communications via Riyadh Main Branch
(P.O. Box 2907; Telex 200149, 200426; Telegrams SABRIT).

HEAD OFFICE: P.O. BOX 9084 RIYADH
Commercial Registration: 25779
Authorized Capital SR 300 million

A full range of banking services will be available.

In Tokyo shops

Cash still flows as prices soar

By Howard Simons

TOKYO, (WP) — Every time I travel to Japan my mind boggles. Affluence, at least in Tokyo, is endemic. Japanese women are the world's most stylish — that is a fact — and secretaries think nothing of spending hundreds of dollars for a dress.

Prices can be and often are outrageous. Along the Ginza — Tokyo's Fifth Avenue — a pair of good men's shoes sell for $300, a woman's Burberry raincoat for $750, and a single apple (handsomely wrapped and three times the size of a red delicious) costs $2.

Lunch at one of Tokyo's best restaurants costs between $170 and $200 per person. A somewhat less decent but fashionable restaurant costs only $120 each.

Japan's economic miracle notwithstanding, there is talk that the government may go bankrupt in a few years. The country's current debt is $400 billion and growing.

Christmas in Tokyo is something else. Although I had read and seen television essays about the phenomenon, I was quite unprepared for how deliciously seriously — commercially, that is — Buddhist Japan takes the holiday.

By late November there are Christmas lights and trees, Santa and reindeer, "merry Christmas" signs and decorations everywhere in the heart of Tokyo. This is especially true of the Ginza. Here, most of the major department stores feature, on their street facades, huge advertisements of Western models in Christmas garb or wrapping.

This year, the Matsuya Ginza department store has gone one step further. It has draped a six-story-high poster of a nude Western model barely wrapped in a red ribbon down the entire interior wall of the store. This tickles many viewers, embarrasses others and, apparently, enrages some Japanese women. They are enraged not because the model is nude, but because — like almost all models in Japanese advertising — she is Caucasian.

One Japanese woman explained to a colleague that Japanese women are beginning to resent the ubiquitous use of Western models because Japanese women neither look like nor are built like Western women. One sign of the revolt, if one can call it that, is an ad spotted on the subway here showing a smiling Japanese woman who had just X-ed out Western models in bikinis.

Prices can be cheap, too. For less than $20 per person, one can stay in a "people's inn" and get dinner and breakfast along with a night's lodging. One sleeps on a thin mattress on a bamboo mat, or tatami, and has a small rice-filled pillow. The food is traditional. For example, at the inn I stayed at in Izumi City in Japan's Southernmost island, breakfast consisted of a raw egg, grated radish, rice, seaweed consommé, dried seaweed and green tea.

Izumi City is home for several thousand cranes, which migrate annually from China and Siberia. Hundreds of ordinary Japanese, as well as bird-watchers, migrated to Izumi, too, to see these graceful birds whose likeness is embedded in Japanese art and culture.

This year the cranes arrived much earlier than usual, giving rise to speculation that is colder earlier in Siberia or there is less food available in Korea, where the birds stop en route to Izumi. There also are more cranes this year than ever, 3,500 already present and another thousand expected.

Thirty-five years ago, at the war's end, there were only 300. But help from the farmers brought the decimated flock back to strength. Now, some of the farmers in Izumi are sorry and want to either get rid of the birds — now protected by law — or have the government subsidize the crop losses the farmers suffer from the cranes' eating habits. The battle between preservationists and farmers has been joined, but not resolved. Of course, I am on the side of the birds.

At the new Otani hotel in Tokyo a wake-up call is ordered by dialing a single digit (in this case the number 5) and then the wake-up time. For an 8 a.m. call, for example, one dials 50800. A biting computer-driven voice immediately answers in Japanese and English, "Thank you. Good night." At 8 a.m. the phone rings and the first thing heard are several birds chirping, followed by a deliciously melodic "Good morning."

What happens if you take a nap and tell the computer you would like to get up at, say, 6 p.m.? At 6 p.m. the phone rings, birds chirp and the voice says, "good morning."

TOKYO: the famous Ginza shopping street

Visit the stand of

VALVOLINE OIL COMPANY

Division of Ashland Oil, Inc.  U.S.A.

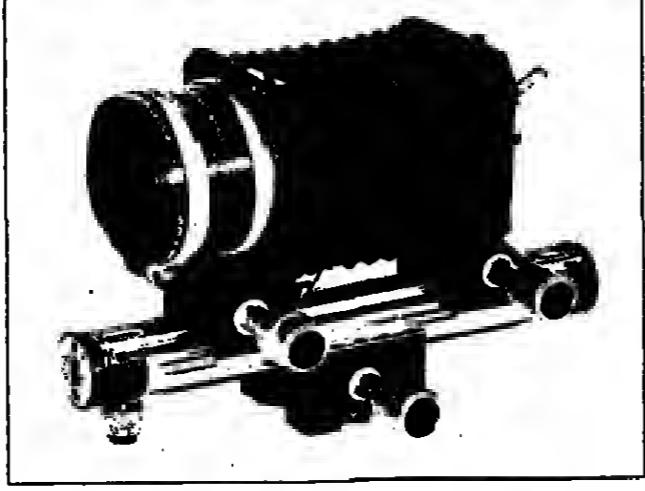

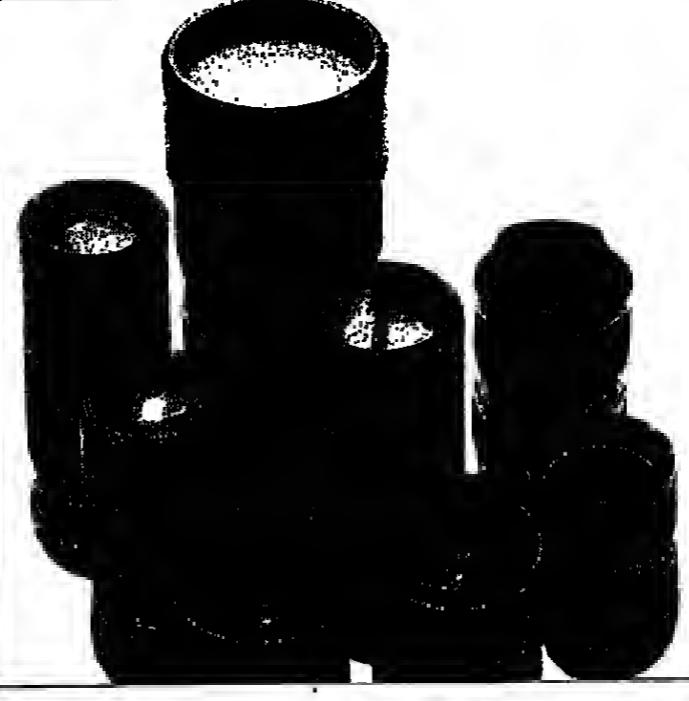

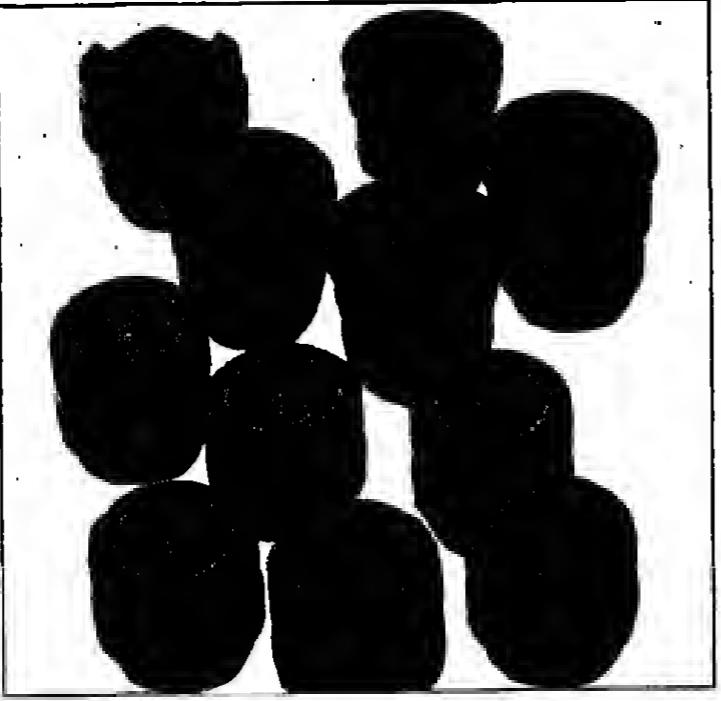

at the 3rd Motor Show in Jeddah

At Jeddah Expo Center
From December 15 to 21, 1980

Opening hours: From 5 to 10 pm.

Imagine! Canon has it all.

Lenses and attachments for every situation and occasion, making a Canon SLR one of the most versatile precision cameras available.

IMAGINE! The whole
Canon range is available at any Al Quraishi

Leisure Services
Showroom or appointed stockist.

Canon

Imagine!
good photographs are a reality with Canon.

Al Quraishi Leisure Services

Includes neo-Italian state rooms

New York's newest hotel is its oldest too

By Lee Benedict

JEDDAH — Imagine a hotel twice as high as the Queen's Building and with more rooms than The Hyatt, the Sheraton and the Meridian combined.

That's The Palace, New York's newest hotel and, curiously, one of its oldest.

The Palace shoots up 55 stories over Madison avenue at 50th street, overlooking the Gothic towers of St. Patrick's Cathedral.

The tall, brown-metal shaft that is the new Palace is linked at its base with one of the greatest architectural landmarks in all New York, the elegant, 100-year-old Villard Houses.

It took six years to build the new tower and connect it to the handsome, brownstone Villard Houses. And it all took place at one of the busiest locations in the city.

The project attracted considerable attention and debate and has not been without its detractors. A critic writing in the New York Times, called The Palace tower "a boring box" and said "There are Holiday Inns with more architectural style."

At the same time, though, the project has received considerable acclaim for its preservation of the incomparable Villard Houses and for the meticulous attention paid to the restoration of the public rooms in the handsome old residences. And even the Times was impressed with the amenities that await guests within the new tower. The Times writer described the rooms as large, well-furnished and comfortable and said "This place gives every indication ... of being a wonderful hotel in which to spend time."

The Palace opened in September as workers were busy putting the finishing touches to many of the guest rooms and public areas. It has been enjoying turn-away business ever since.

Here are some impressions of the Big Apple's new showplace, garnered during a recent stay there.

Traffic around 50th and Madison is worse than Medina and Palestine roads at the rush hour. In fact, if you are not positioned in the right lane to make the turn at 50th, forget it. (Changing lanes in New York is something like racing the bulls in Pamplona.)

If you miss the turn, as I did, you continue north on Madison, work your way over to the proper lane (allow two blocks for that maneuver), hang a right, double back on Park Avenue and sneak up on the Palace from off of 50th.

Like the man who carries two handkerchiefs, one for show and one for blow, the Palace has two entrances: the grand entrance off of Madison and the working entrance off of 50th.

The hotel garage is next to the 50th street entrance in case you're driving. But with the final construction work just winding down part of it was being used by contractors and overflow cars were being shuttled to another garage.

The going rate for parking in Manhattan these days is $13 per 24-hour day plus tax, which boosts the tariff up to close to $15 a day.

While the Madison Avenue entrance is spacious, elegant and impressive, the 50th street entrance is modest to the point of being architecturally stingy. The check-in desk just inside the door is narrow and seems to offer barely enough space for the staff to move about. The check-in process is not enhanced by the crowded conditions on both sides of the counter.

But once you're past that hurdle, it's smooth sailing from there on out. The Palace must have put all of its staff through charm school. They are a cheerful and cooperative bunch who seem to go out of their way to be helpful.

Incidentally, your bellboy won't let you into your room with a conventional door key. He'll insert a card with a special computer code number which opens the door. When you check out, the card is thrown away and the next guest gets a new card with a new computer number.

computer number.

The big, comfortable rooms have all the usual hotel goodies plus a few more: bottled tonie water, sewing kits, shower caps, shampoo, shoe polish.

Room service is extraordinarily speedy. Shortly after 7 p.m., a call for laundry service brought a bellman who scooped up a batch of rumpled clothes and dashed off saying he would have them back later in the evening. It hardly seemed an hour had passed when the same business-like man dashed back into the room with the now-squeaky-clean clothes, hung them up and dashed out again — without giving the astonished guests time to even consider much less proffer a tip.

Such grand service doesn't come cheap, to be sure. The laundry and dry cleaning bill was over $20 and tea and pastry for two served in the room cost $29.

The room tariff was a shocker too, even by Jeddah's and New York's high standards. Our big comfortable double cost $160 per night. Singles start at $120 and go to $180 in four steps. Add $20 for a second person in the room. One bedroom suites start at $280 per night and go to $500. Two bedroom suites are $600 and $700; the Ambassador suite is $900 and a "triplex" is $1,800 per night.

As though the $160 rate wasn't enough, New York adds taxes to the bill each day. There is a $12.80 per night room tax and a $2 "occupancy" tax. So your $160 per night room for two is actually $174.80. Add parking charges, room service and tips and you're in for over $200 a night.

If the tariff is too steep for you, the Waldorf is just down the block and the Barclay and the new Hyatt are nearby. But don't expect to save much. Most four-star properties in New York are over the $100 per night range.

If you don't stay at the Palace, at least treat yourself to tea, cocktails or dinner in one of the public rooms of the Villard Houses. There's the Gold Room, with John LaFarge murals on the walls, French Renaissance wood wainscoting and gold brocaded walls; for continental breakfast, tea and cocktails; the Drawing Room, with green marble columns and gold-leafed ceiling; the Bar, the former oak-paneled dining room of the mansion; the Triano Room, with its beautiful artwork and furnishings; and the marble-lined hallways and magnificent grand staircase.

Villard Houses were originally a cluster of townhouses built in 1882 by Henry Villard, one of New York's most prominent financiers. The architectural firm of McKim, Mead and White designed them along Neo-Italian Renaissance lines, after the Palazzo della Cancelleria in Rome. For years, they served as an American palace where lavish parties and balls were attended by leaders of society.

Now that the rooms are open to the public, they are well worth visiting. There are few finer anywhere. And certainly none so grand in any other contemporary hotel.

HOTEL: the Palace in New York, with the Villard Houses in the foreground

Arab News Diary

Eastern Province

By Jean Grant

ALKHOBAR — 300 parents and small fry ball players fought the blustery winds of a shamal to attend the Arabian Gulf Little League's bar-b-que last Friday at Al Khodari compound, Khorab.

Mr. Polka Dot, the jolly clown with the woolly red hair and Western drawl, tied up the children wearing their spanking new baseball uniforms for a heated 3-legged race. Parents enjoyed the country music of "The Best of the West in the Middle East" band who played such Western favorites as Cripple Creek, Blue Heartache, and Steel Guitar Rag. President of the Arabian Gulf Little League, Bob Costa, said that its 150 players from 17 countries, all under the age of 12, met to "play ball in a spirit of competition and sportsmanship." Coaches Cal Svoboda, George Cardenas, Roger Strom, George Ortiz, and Lou Lozano will manage the 10 teams in the 80 games scheduled between January and March, when an all-star team will be chosen to represent the area in Spain.

Aramcons Pilul and Ben Carreon won the Dhahran garden group's "Yard of the Month" award for their garden in the Dhahran hills. Ben Carreon told Arab News that hibiscus, zinnias, frangipani, and bougainvilles all flourish in the sandy soil here. It is, nevertheless, "a continual battle," especially with the shamals. The one last week broke some of the stems of plants whose roots were not firmly anchored. The Carreons well deserve the coveted award since they spend 3 hours most evenings and 8 hours on the weekends making their garden bloom.

Another gardener to be recently honored was Phyllis Bozelli who was selected as gardener of the month, by the local IWG.

Her garden, those without land will be heartened to know, is her living room which she has turned into a regular conservatory with foliage ranging from coleus and palms to airplane plants.

Dhahran International Airport sports a festive mood these days as expat parents greet junior or young nipper fresh from boarding schools in America and Europe. The teenagers report they are happy to see Mum and Dad, sand and sea again, and to have a well-earned break from homework and classes, most are here for the next 13 weeks.

Teema and Ernie Conklin with daughter Sara are heading off to San Diego after a stay of several years in Khorab. Ernie will be missed in the circle of American businessmen for his wit and good humor. Peter Barnes hosted a farewell reception in their honor last Friday night at the Al-Bustan compound while some of the Conklins' many friends said goodbye and wished them success as they set up a business of their own in the States.

150 bookings have been made, but there are still a few places left for the children's party and parents' luncheon at the Ramada Hotel for December 25. Two clowns will entertain the children in a special routine. The clowns are regularly featured at the Ramada's Friday luncheons but they promise a special treat for next Thursday's performance.

At the Al Qasabi hotel the Republic of China trade fair has been postponed to December 21 to 27 with displays of this and that — everything from jade to furniture and garments to electrical equipment. Hours will be from 8 to 12 and from 4 to 9 in the evening.

YOU SIMPLY DIAL

JEDDAH

- And we will deliver to your premises
- Within 24 hours.
- Any quantity of tires & tubes.
- At cheaper than market prices.
- Because we are one of the few largest importers in the Kingdom with facilities of free delivery.

Sole Agent SHAMSUDIN ASHRIF

Pioneer launches a first in supersonic travel

In this fast-paced world of bullet trains and Concorde jetliners, to stay in touch with your favorite stereo music you need SOUNDSTRECK. Pioneer's new supersonic fleet of Multi-Mode Mobile Hi-Fi.

Why SOUNDSTRECK? Because for those who really want the best in stereo listening enjoyment in an action-packed, ready-to-go size, Pioneer offers SOUNDSTRECK portability and AC/DC versatility.

What's this talk about Multi-Mode Mobile Hi-Fi? For added tape handling ease and pushbutton program selection, Pioneer offers Multi-Mode Deck™ design in every SOUNDSTRECK stereo portable. For example, there's Song Finder.™ With it you can skip over unwanted program material and locate and play your favorite song at the push of a button. A feature you would expect to find in a home hi-fi cassette deck. But wait till you hear the sound of our SOUNDSTRECK portables. When you do, you'll know why we call them "Mobile Hi-Fi".

Explore the outer reaches of stereo listening enjoyment with SOUNDSTRECK Multi-Mode Mobile Hi-Fi from Pioneer. They're available in six models, all featuring Pioneer performance and supersonic sound to get you off the ground.

SoundTek

PIONEER

AHMED ALI BADOGHAISH

HEAD OFFICE : AL-KHOBAR : Tel: 8646594 - Showroom, Al-Janoobiyah
BRANCHES : BRANCHES : Tel: 25914 - Showroom, King Abdul Aziz Street.
JEDDAH : RIYADH : Tel: 4778514 - Showroom, Sitteen St.
KHAMIS MUSHEIR : Tel: 2238156 - Showroom, The main street.
DAMMAM : DAMMAM : Tel: 8333542 1st street.

■ Number one skid steer loader in the world
■ Maneuvers within its own length
■ Dependable hydrostatic drive
■ Backhoe, auger, and other attachments available
■ Digs, loads, grades, and then cleans up... it'll outwork an entire crew all day, every day

Your best source for quality American construction equipment, products and systems.

General Trading & Equipment Est.

King Abdul Aziz Boulevard, Alkhobar
Mailing address: P.O. Box 192, Dhahran Airport, Saudi Arabia
Phone: (03) 86-46816 Alkhobar, Telex 670119 ASIACO SJ

Riyadh Sales Office:
Mailing address: P.O. Box 41307, Riyadh, Saudi Arabia
Phone: (01) 491-8481

Hijacked jetliner lands in Cuba; hostages free

HAVANA, Dec. 17 (AP) — The Colombian jetliner hijacked by anti-government terrorists landed at Havana's Jose Marti Airport Tuesday after hopscotching across Colombia, Panama, Mexico and the Caribbean.

Security measures kept reporters away from the red and white Boeing 727, which came to a halt at the end of a runway. Airport workers said about 100 people left the plane and all appeared to be well. They were taken to an immigration office.

Hong Kong officials to tackle license scam

HONG KONG, Dec. 17 (AP) — Anti-graft officers from the independent commission against corruption will visit India next week to seek cooperation in stopping a driving license racket.

A commission spokesman said there was a sharp increase in Indian license holders applying to swap for Hong Kong licenses recently. Many of these Indian license holders are Hong Kong residents and some of them have only spent a few hours in transit at Bombay or Calcutta airport, the spokesman said. The commission wants the issuance of licenses to transients stopped.

After the commission was called in to investigate the scandal, officials of the transport department and many applicants were interviewed, but since the probe began in September no one has been charged.

The Hong Kong government has agreements with 28 countries, including India, to exchange driving licenses for cars and motorcycles. The spokesman said more than 1,000 Indian licenses were turned in for Hong Kong licenses this year. Another 300 have been withheld at the transport department since September.

SUCCESSOR: Francesco Pinto Balsanino, chosen last week to succeed Portuguese Prime Minister Francisco da Cunha, speaks to reporters in Lisbon. Da Cunha died in a plane crash.

Powell defends snakes

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (R) — The White House came to the defense of snakes after President-elect Ronald Reagan's 22-year-old son, Ronnie, accused President Jimmy Carter of having the morals of one.

Ronnie, a ballet dancer, criticized Carter in a magazine interview, saying he resented that the outgoing president had suggested during the election campaign that his father was a racist and a warmonger. White House Press Secretary Jody Powell refused to comment directly on Ronnie's remark that Carter had the morals of a snake.

But he discoursed on snakes in general because, he said, he knew them well. "Something ought to be said in defense of snakes," he said. "I used to catch them when I was a kid. They are clean. They kill rodents. They have little discernible odor. They almost never bother you unless you step on them."

Trims spending, boosts defense

Lame-duck U.S. Congress shifts to right

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (R) — The U.S. Congress has adjourned after a year in which a conservative resurgence forced liberal Democrats on to the defensive and finally defeated many of them in November's election landslide.

When Congress opens a new session on Jan. 5 it will have a Republican-controlled Senate for the first time in 25 years and a stronger Republican minority in the House of Representatives. Throughout the year Democrats, sensing a national shift to the right, embraced some conservative causes. Congress trimmed spending, tried but failed to balance the budget, and approved a record $160-billion defense bill.

The Democrats put off some politically unpalatable decisions until after the election, bringing Congress back to consider more legislation. Finally, the way was cleared for adjournment: Tuesday morning when Congress, fearing a voter backlash, refused to give itself a 10 per cent pay increase.

During the year Congress passed landmark legislation on energy, voting to launch an enormous program to develop synthetic fuels to replace dwindling oil reserves. The program could cost nearly $90 billion in the next decade and to help pay for it Congress enacted a windfall profits tax on the oil industry.

But it refused to support President Jimmy Carter's proposal for an energy mobilization

Oarsman loses touch

SONOMA, California, Dec. 17 (AP) — Sponsors of Briton Peter Bird's attempt to be the first to row across the Pacific Ocean alone said he has missed two radio contacts, probably because of radio failure. Bird, who left San Francisco Oct. 1 en route to Australia, will now probably be out of touch with the world until the end of his nine-month to one-year trip.

board to overlook energy projects, fearing it would ignore state and environmental concerns. It also vetoed Carter's plan to help energy conservation by imposing a $4.62 a barrel import fee on oil.

In a year in which incoming Republican President Ronald Reagan campaigned on promises to reduce government regulation, Congress removed many government con-

'Col.' Sanders, chicken magnate, dies

LOUISVILLE, Kent., Dec. 17 (R) — "Colonel" Harland D. Sanders, the founder of the billion-dollar Kentucky Fried Chicken enterprise, died Tuesday in a hospital here. He was 90.

His death was announced by John Cox, vice president for public affairs for the Kentucky Fried Chicken Company. Sanders was admitted to the hospital last month for treatment of a kidney and bladder infection and leukemia. While under treatment his condition worsened and in the latter stages he contracted pneumonia.

Sanders was born to poor Indiana farmers on Sept. 9, 1890, and spent his early life drifting from one dead-end venture to another. Because of his later fame he was made "A Kentucky Colonel", a state honor given to the famous but with no military connotations. Kentucky Fried Chicken's 5,000 franchised fast food outlets in the United States and 1,000 overseas listed sales of more than $2 billion last year.

After a minimal education, Sanders worked as a railway fireman, service station attendant, tram conductor, steamboat ferryman, law student, insurance salesman and motel operator, before opening a roadside cafe in the 1930s serving chicken to passing motorists.

It was only in 1956, when Sanders was trolls from the railroads, the trucking industry and banks and restricted the activities of the Federal Trade Commission.

1980 also saw the shelving of the U.S.-Soviet Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty (SALT). The Senate set it aside after the Soviet intervention in Afghanistan and Reagan says he wants it renegotiated.

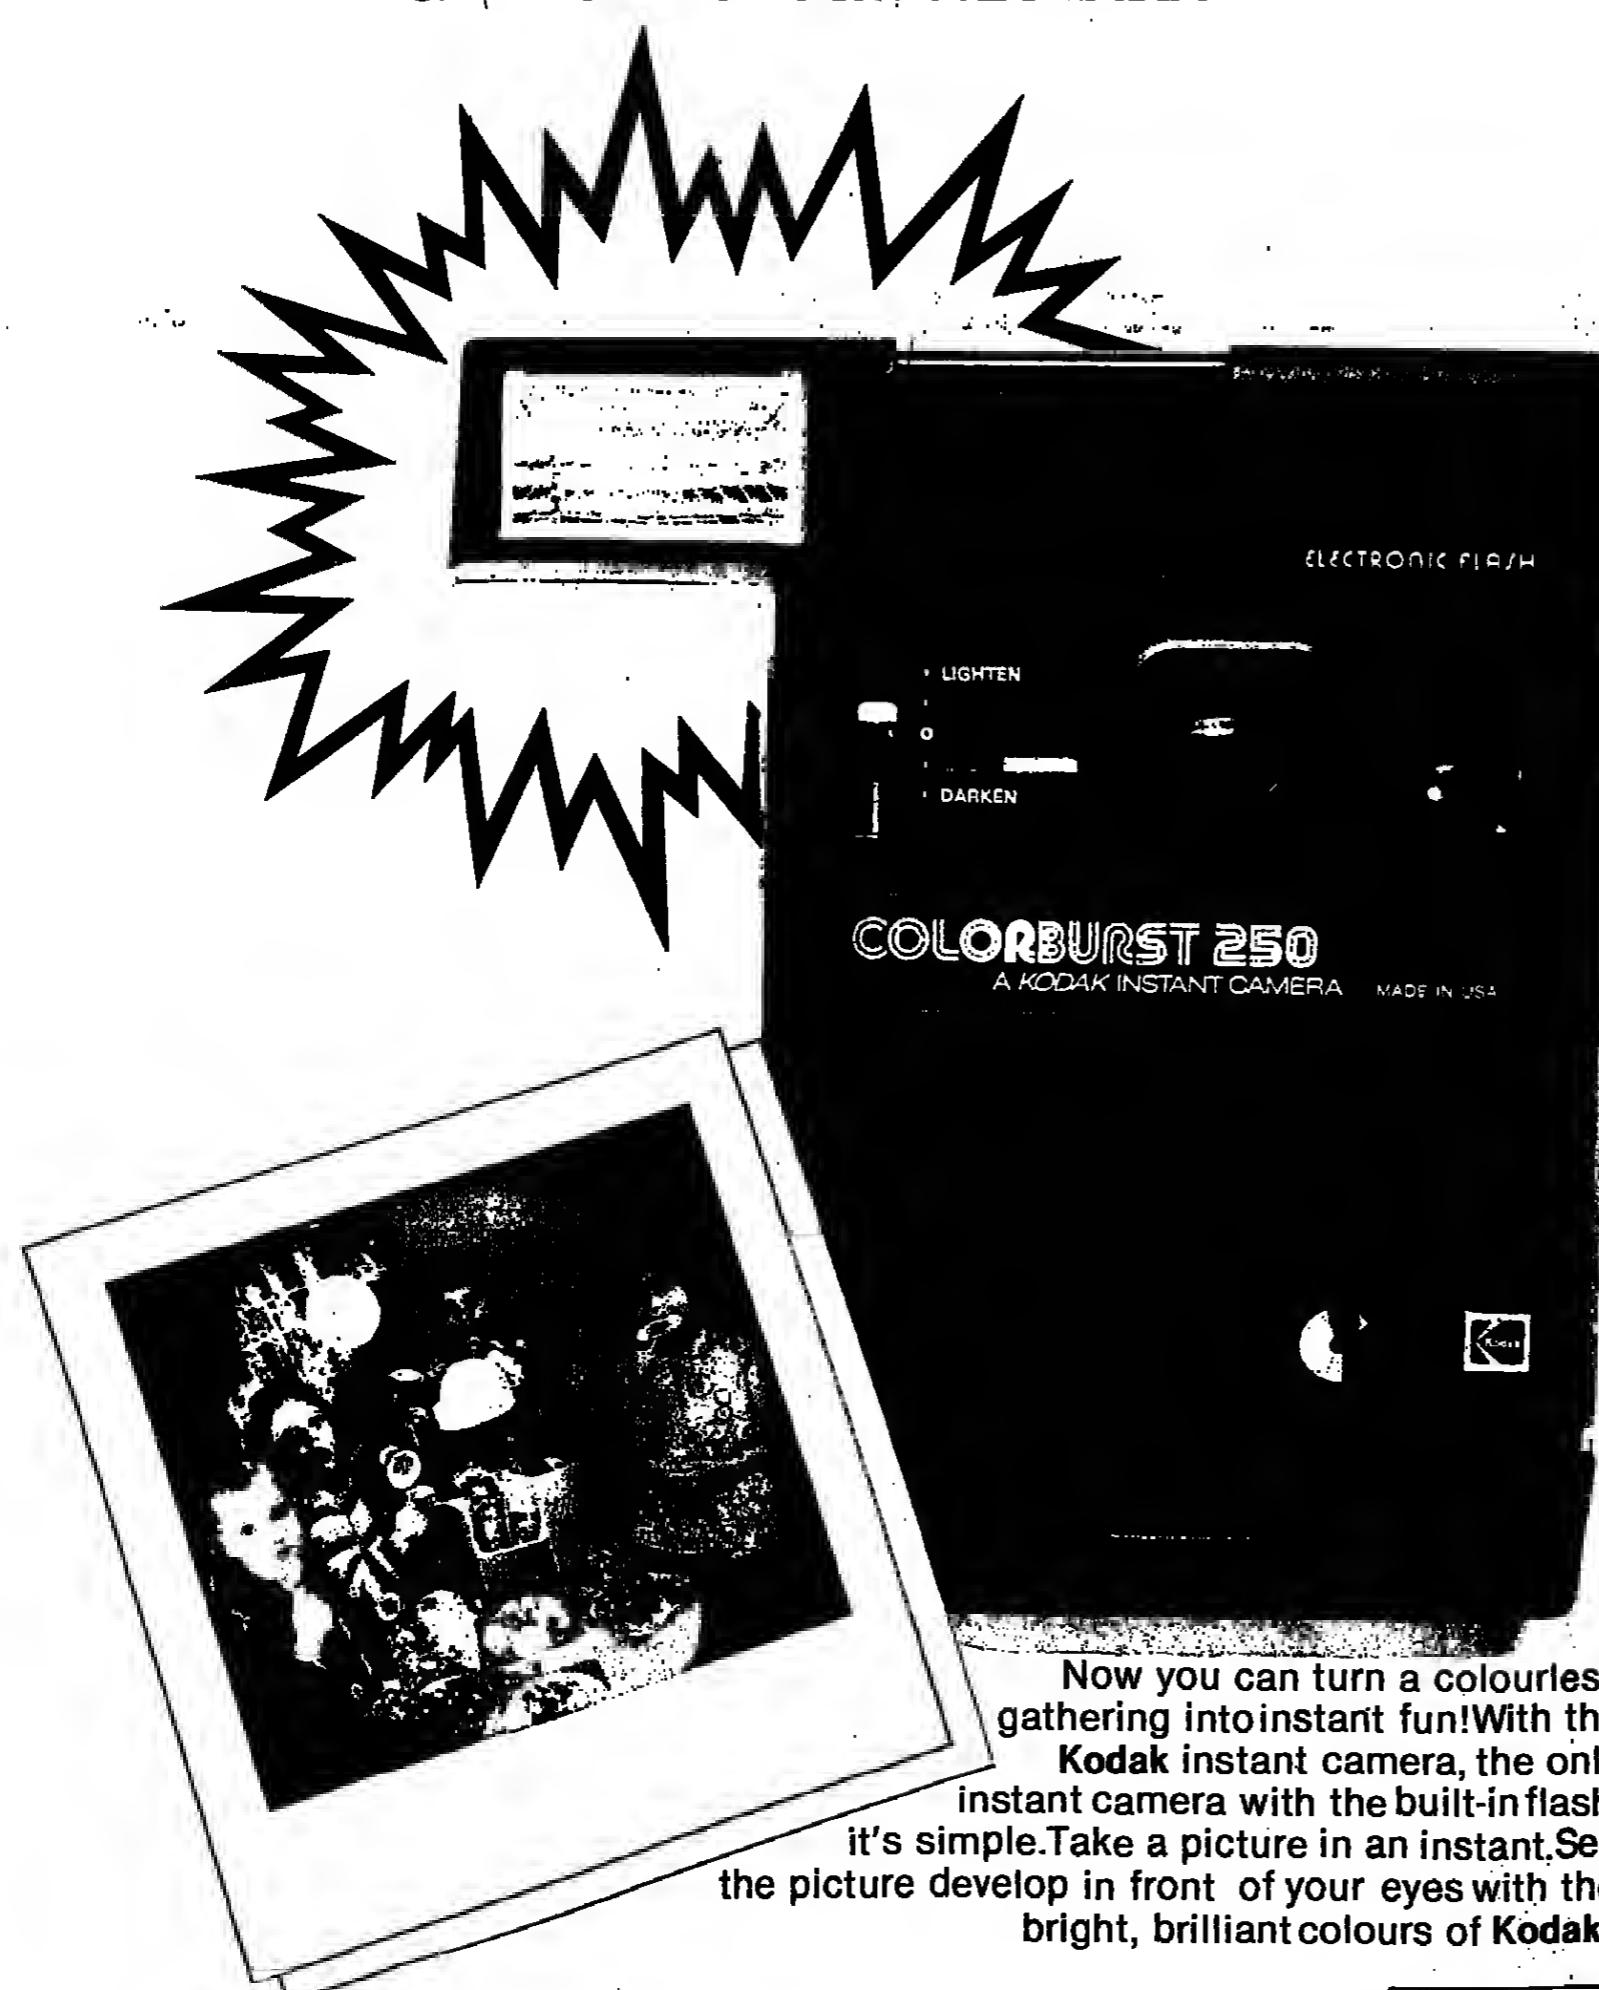

'Gang' trial off again

PEKING, Dec. 17 (AFP) — The trial of Jiang Qing, Mao Tse-Tung's wife and the leader of the "Gang of Four," was postponed again Wednesday for the fourth consecutive day. An official spokesman confirmed that no session would be held.

The last hearing was held Saturday. Jiang was the last of 10 defendants still scheduled to answer questions before the special court of 35 judges gathered to hear charges of "counter-revolutionary crimes" allegedly committed by the 10 during the 1966-76 Cultural Revolution.

A new session for Jiang, originally set for Monday, had been rescheduled for Wednesday. Hong Kong's pro-Communist Ta Kung Pao newspaper has reported. Jiang was escorted from the witness stand last Friday after she hurled abuse at witnesses who had testified against her, and openly defied the judges.

Only Kodak Instant Cameras have a built-in flash!

Now you can turn a colourless gathering into instant fun! With the Kodak instant camera, the only instant camera with the built-in flash, it's simple. Take a picture in an instant. See the picture develop in front of your eyes with the bright, brilliant colours of Kodak.

Instant Cameras by Kodak.

For QUIETNESS and COMFORT nothing compares with CORTINA

the split system Airconditioner from DELCHI

CORTINA SPLIT SYSTEM AIRCONDITIONER AVAILABLE IN 15500 BTU, 20500 BTU and 25500 BTU (50 & 60 Hz with optional heating if required)

AL-ABBAR Jeddah 6657352/3/4 Ryadih Damman Central Airconditioning Division

The wonderful CORTINA split unit is specially designed to provide you with the soundless operation which you require in your office and your house. The noisy condensing unit is located outside the building, leaving only a silent fan inside the room to carry efficiently and quietly the coolness of the evaporator to your room

CHOOSE ANY ONE YOU LIKE, free

WELLAZID Hair Conditioner 250ML

KOLESTON 2000 Hair Colour (Any Available Shade)

WELLA Gentle Care Shampoo for Damaged Hair 125ML

WELLA Gentle Care Shampoo for Greasy Hair 125ML

FOR PURCHASING EVERY neopen MILD SHAMPOO 1000 ml.

THIS OFFER IS FOR LIMITED PERIOD ONLY:

When you purchase NEOPEN MILD SHAMPOO 1000ml any one of these superb WELLA hair care beauty items is yours FREE.

All you have to do is take this advertisement to your local WELLA stockist and purchase NEOPEN you can then select any one of the other items absolutely FREE while stocks last. All the gifts are normal sizes - not small sample sizes.

Apart from this offer WELLA has 3 such gift schemes for you. Ask your counter attendant or see your newspaper for details.

The Co-operative Import Corporation

JEDDAH 6427624 RYADH 4021163 AL-KHOBAR 882572

But good news scarce

Crisis-weary Italians eager for relief

ROME, Dec. 17 (AP) — The daring abduction of a prominent judge by a terrorist gang — the latest in the seemingly unending stream of bad news for Italians this year — has added to the gloom and frustration pervading Italian society.

Three weeks after a massive earthquake devastated southern Italy, killing more than 3,000 people, Italians are thirsty for good news, or at least for business as usual. They are not getting much help.

Cynicism born of political impotence, corruption, violence and the early arrival of wet and cold winter all combine in the brew of discontentment. Over the weekend, the big newspapers printed large front-page photographs of Judge Giovanni D'Urso sitting in front of a red flag embossed with the words "Brigate Rosse" (Red Brigades) and a five-pointed star in a circle. He was holding a large sign scribbled with Red Brigades demands for the shutdown of a maximum security prison for violent political犯.

D'Urso, 49, who held the highly sensitive post of directing transfers of inmates to maximum security prisons, was snatched Friday in the first political kidnapping since the Red Brigades grabbed former Premier Aldo Moro in March 1978 and killed him after holding him 53 days in a "people's prison."

D'Urso's abduction revived the painful memories of Moro's ordeal. The terrorists seemed to be making sure of that.

There were familiar references to class struggle, a "people's tribunal" and a "people's prison." Even D'Urso's gaunt and unshaven face resembled Moro's pictures

U.S. unit protects cities from nuclear blackmail

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AFP) — The United States government has secretly formed a special unit to prevent "atomic terrorism" — like blackmailing an American city by threatening it with nuclear destruction.

The unit is called "NEST" (Nuclear Emergency Search Team) and its headquarters is 25 kms north of Washington in an annex of the Department of Energy at Germantown, Maryland. It has direct communication links with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Central Intelligence Agency and the Pentagon. Its headquarters maintains a staff on permanent duty, ready to deal with any nuclear threat.

The unit was set up by President Gerald Ford in November 1974, but its existence was released during his captivity and suggested that it might be the work of the same old photographer.

"They (the terrorists) are ridiculing all of us — the citizens, the government officials and all," said a newspaper stand attendant, Silvio Colli. "I feel rage, disgust, grief, hate."

Among other stories in the newspapers and broadcast news bulletins were:

— Giuseppe Zambonetti, the government's special commissioner for earthquake relief, told an interviewer that he feels like a French soldier fighting "an impossible war" in Indochina. He said political division and attempts to fix blame for inefficient relief operation were severely undercutting his effort.

— More than 10 years after a bomb explosion in a crowded Milan bank killed 16 persons and injured more than 100, an appeals trial was still continuing convicted right-wing terrorists denying the charge. Little progress is reported in the hunt for the perpetrators of the Aug. 2 bombing at the Bologna railroad station which killed 82 persons.

— Industry minister Antonio Bisaglia has submitted his resignation following accusations that he was involved in the unfolding petroleum tax evasion scandal which reportedly has cost the government more than $2 billion in lost revenues. Bisaglia, a Christian Democrat, denied the charge but said the pressure was making him unable to perform his government duties.

— The price of gasoline was increased from $3.44 a gallon to $3.77 a gallon to raise funds for earthquake relief, adding to the burden of others.

an annual inflation running at 22 per cent. The price of gasoline has gone up 30 per cent this year in Italy.

The Center for Social Studies and Investment (CENSIS), a partly government-financed research institute, says in its latest report that "the fracture between society on one side and institutions and politics on the other has dramatically worsened."

Nevertheless, Italian society has responded to the 12-month tempest by relying on its flexibility and resiliency," the report says, adding that despite inflation, the economy has expanded, savings and investments are on the rise. In short, at least from an economic standpoint, Italy is not "in the dark tunnel of crisis."

"I feel the economic pinch, and it's been bad this year, but I'll buy the argument that it's the same all over the world," says Giancarlo Greco, who books concerts for musicians, "what really bothers me is the feeling that there seems to be limit to the kind of ugly things some of our countrymen can do to others."

He said he was "profoundly shaken" by reports of profiteering and looting in the process of the earthquake relief.

"Watching soccer on Sundays is not the same any more, there's no longer that sense of pure fun," he said, referring to the soccer scandal that rocked the Italian sports world this year. Top soccer players and managers were suspended on charges of being involved in a scheme of fixed games allegedly instigated by underworld figures. A criminal trial is now under way.

The price of gasoline was increased from $3.44 a gallon to $3.77 a gallon to raise funds for earthquake relief, adding to the burden of others.

operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat. NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its operational base is at the department of Energy's testing site at Las Vegas. This city's airport has the double advantage of being practically never closed because of bad weather conditions as well as possessing the county's biggest fleet of available jet planes for hire.

In addition to the Las Vegas facilities, NEST possesses a bureau at Andrews Base, near Washington, where U.S. Air Force planes are ready to take-off immediately in the event of a nuclear blackmail threat.

NEST has sophisticated equipment enabling it to thoroughly comb through a big city for any atomic weapons. This material is already packed and ready to be flown anywhere in the country at a moment's notice.

NEST started at $1.5 million in 1974 and will be $50 million next year. While its headquarters is at Germantown, its

EEC disagrees over fishing

BRUSSELS, Dec. 17 (R) — European Common Market Countries were deadlocked over fishing policies Tuesday night despite two days of bargaining and delegates said there was a long way to go before agreement was reached on the key issues of fishing quotas and access rights. After a meeting finishing past midnight, fisheries ministers consulted with the European Economic Community (EEC) commission in an effort to break the deadlock.

French Transport Minister Daniel Hoeffel said West Germany, Denmark and the Netherlands did not support latest compromise proposals on quotas put forward Tuesday night. British Fisheries Minister Peter Walker said he was still fighting to retain exclusive fishing rights for British fleets within a 12-mile from British shores.

Meanwhile, EEC will probably approve next month an increase in General Agreement on Tariffs and trade (GATT) customs duties on Tapioca in order to get Thailand to restrict its exports to the "nine," it was learned here Tuesday. The news filtered out after the meeting of the council of ministers.

Thailand is prepared to restrict to about 5,000,000 tons annually for the next six years its exports of Tapioca to the EEC if the latter will agree to increase the customs duties on this commodity in the GATT area. Bangkok in fact fears that small suppliers of Tapioca, such as Brazil, India or Indonesia, will finally deliver to the "nine" the quantities which Thailand would pledge to sell longer to the Common Market.

Most of the "nine" and the European commission in Brussels are in favor of raising the duties. But West Germany would prefer the conclusion of self-restraint agreements with the other countries.

Japan absorbs increases of OPEC prices

TOKYO, Dec. 17 (R) — The Japanese economy should be able to shrug off the effects of the latest OPEC oil price increases of about 10 per cent without fresh measures to curb inflation, chief cabinet secretary Kiichi Miyazawa said Wednesday. He told a press conference the higher prices would not affect to any great degree next year's budget and economic forecast currently being compiled by the government.

The government had no plans for fresh measures to fight inflation, now running at an annual rate of about eight per cent, because the country has ample kerosene supplies to cover the winter, he added.

Miyazawa's views were echoed by industry sources, who said the higher oil prices would probably be absorbed in Japan because of progress on conservation, a possible yen appreciation against the dollar and an increased inflow of petrodollars into the country.

Foreign Exchange Rates

Quoted at 6:00 P.M. Wednesday

	SAMA	Cash	Transfer
Bahraini Dinar	—	8.86	8.85
Belgian Franc (1,000)	102.00	—	—
Canadian Dollar	2.75	—	—
Deutsche Mark (100)	165.00	170.00	166.70
Dutch Guilder (100)	152.00	—	153.40
Egyptian Pound	—	4.40	4.45
Emirates Dirham (100)	—	91.00	90.90
French Franc (100)	71.00	73.50	71.85
Greek Drachma (1,000)	—	75.00	—
India Rupee (100)	—	—	41.95
Iraqi Dinar	—	—	—
Italian Lira (10,000)	35.00	36.40	35.40
Japanese Yen (1,000)	15.90	—	16.25
Jordanian Dinar	—	10.86	10.73
Kuwaiti Dinar	—	12.25	12.24
Lebanese Lira (100)	—	90.80	89.35
Moroccan Dirham (100)	—	83.00	81.70
Pakistani Rupee (100)	—	—	33.70
Philippines Peso (100)	—	—	44.50
Pound Sterling	7.71	7.85	7.74
Qatari Riyal (100)	—	91.75	91.70
Singapore Dollar	—	—	1.58
Spanish Peso (1,000)	—	44.50	45.75
Swiss Franc (100)	182.00	190.00	184.00
Syrian Lira (1,000)	—	77.00	85.50
Turkish Lira (1,000)	—	44.00	—
U.S. Dollar	3.33	3.33	3.325
Yemeni Riyal (100)	—	73.00	72.90
Gold kg.	61,500.00	—	—
10 Tolas bar	7,180.00	—	—
Silver kg.	—	—	—

Cash and Transfer rates supplied by Al-Rajhi Company for Currency Exchange and Commerce, Gabel St. Jeddah — Tel : 23615.

Saudi Arabian Government Tenders

Authority	Description	No. of Tender	Price SR	Closing Date
University of Petroleum and Minerals, Dhahran	Installation of equipment and machinery in the Department of Electronic Sciences	—	300	Jan. 4
Department of Water and Sewage, Eastern Province	Barbed wire fencing around the drainage water treatment reservoirs in Dammam and Al-Khobar	14-400-401	700	Dec. 30
" "	Fencing of the Department's lands in Dammam	16/400/401	1000	Jan. 6
Directorate General of Education, Eastern Province	Supply of various types of vehicles	24	Free	Dec. 27
" "	Repairs to lavatories at Khaled ibn Al-Waleed school in Dammam	23	Free	Dec. 20
Ministry of Communications	Preventive maintenance of Abqaiq/Dhahran road	—	2000	Jan. 10
" "	Construction and paving of a 3 Km. road stretch between Al-Dhahraa/Al-Alish in Jizan district	—	2000	Jan. 5

PORTS AUTHORITY

JEDDAH ISLAMIC PORT
SHIPS MOVEMENTS UPTO 0700 HOURS ON 17TH DECEMBER, 1980, 10TH SAFAR, 1401

Berth	Name of Vessel	Agent	Type of Cargo	Arrival Date
7.	Bailundo	Alessada	Bagged Grain	15.12.80
16.	Eva Del Mar	H.S.S.C.	Containers	16.12.80
18.	Odysseus	Rolaco	Bulk Cement	11.12.80
19.	Tsuji Arrow	Alephah	Bulk Cement	15.12.80
21.	Barber Prism	Barber	Contra/Gen/Tiles	15.12.80
24.	Passadena	Star	Reefer	"
40.	Neugraben	S.N.L.	General/Contrs.	16.12.80

2. RECENT ARRIVALS:

Heil	Attar	To Load Empty Contrs.	16.12.80
Neugraben	S.N.L.	Gen/Contrs.	"
Harley Ace	A.E.T.	Vehicles	"
Eva Del Mar	H.S.S.C.	Containers	"

3. VESSELS EXPECTED TO ARRIVE WITHIN THE NEXT 24 HOURS:

Obstein	Kanoo	General/To Load Empty Contrs.	17.12.80
Toti 'B'	Fayez	General	"
Saudi Prince	O.Trade	1 Used Tug	"
Maldive Novel	O.Trade	Rico/Sorghum/	"
Junior	Kanoo	Timber/Gen.	"
These	Sindi	Rebar	"
addah Crown	A.E.T.	Govt. Cargo	"
Kasuga Maru	Alireza	Containera	"
Kasuga Maru	Alireza	Containers	"
Kawachi Maru	Alireza	Containers	"
Pioneer Runner	Alireza	Containers	"

KING ABDUL AZIZ PORT

DAMMAM

SHIP MOVEMENTS UPTO 0700 HRS ON 10.2.1401/17.12.1980 CHANGES PAST 24 HRS.

2.	Asia Hope	Gulf	General	16.12.80
9.	Iannimartinos	Kanoo	Contra/Rice	12.12.80
14.	Daru	Ori	General	14.12.80
17.	Pinelopi	Kanoo	Timber	16.12.80
30.	Pesa Wain	UEP	General/Contrs.	14.12.80
31.	Hemlock	UEP	Rice/General	12.12.80
36.	Pesani Flag	SMC	Cement Silo Vessel	28.10.80
37.	Pacific Exporter(D.B.)	Alireza	Bulk Cement	12.12.80

Reagan expected to fight stagnant economy, inflation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (R) — President-elect Ronald Reagan now seems likely to face both a stagnant economy and persistent inflation when he takes office Jan. 20. The leading U.S. banks announced Tuesday that they were raising the prime lending rate charged to their most creditworthy customers to an unprecedented 21 per cent.

At the same time, the government reported that housing construction and U.S. industrial production as a whole had slumped in the month of November. Reagan, speaking to reporters in California, said the latest interest rate increase showed how ill the U.S. economy had become. "It's going to be a problem that has to be faced," he said. "I think it's just a symptom of the economic sickness this country has."

Asked how he would deal with the problem, he said: "You'll find out." U.S. interest rates have been climbing steadily in response to efforts by the Federal Reserve Board, the U.S. Central Bank, to cut inflation by restricting the money supply.

Earlier this month the Reserve Board raised the rate charged member banks for borrowing reserves from 12 to 13 per cent. One victim of the high interest rates has been the housing industry because it now costs so much to borrow money to buy a home.

The Commerce Department said that construction began on new houses fell by 0.4 per cent in November to an annual rate of 1.55 million units, the first drop in six months. The Federal Reserve reported that U.S. industry increased its output in November by a disappointing 1.4 per cent, below the 21.8 percent rise registered in October.

It added that industrial production was likely to drop further because industry schedules were being cut back partly in response to the high interest rates.

VACANCIES

A SAUDI ARABIAN ESTABLISHMENT

"A SAUDI ARABIAN ESTABLISHMENT IS IN NEED OF THE FOLLOWING STAFF A VALID WORK PERMIT AND RESIDENT PERMIT WITH A REGULAR OPTION OF RELEASE FROM THEIR PRESENT SPONSOR:

Salesmen should have a considerable knowledge in English and fluent in speaking. Preference for the holders of a valid Saudi Driving Licence.

Surveyors should have enough experience and competent in their field.

Accountant B-Com with atleast 5 years exp.

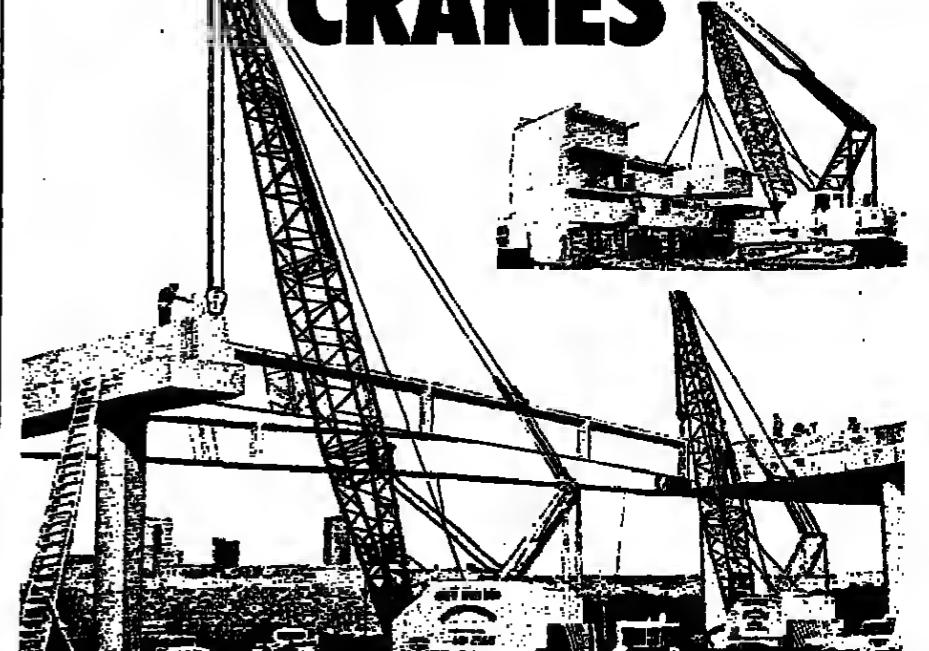

Cashier 5 years experience with good education.

Collectors should have a Valid Driving Licence and well in spoken english.

THE PERSONS FEELING FIT FOR ANY OF THE ABOVE JOB, SHOULD CONTACT ON TELEPHONE NO. 8642150."

AMERICAN

TRUCK & CRAWLER CRANES

MAKE EVEN THE BIG JOBS EASY.

site mobility; greater handling capacity; exceptional on-site maneuverability. Handle anything up to and beyond 200 tons, over longer working radius and height.

AMERICAN
They do the big jobs better, faster, site mobility; greater handling capacity; exceptional on-site maneuverability. Handle anything up to and beyond 200 tons, over longer working radius and height.

AMERICAN
They do the big jobs better, faster,

Parfums Revillon - Paris
250 years of French Tradition

TAMER Jeddah 29634 - Riyadh 4024653 - Al-Khobar 6642115

HURSDAY-FRIDAY, DECEMBER 18-19, 1980

BHUTAN : known as the Land of the Thunder Dragon, this tiny mountain kingdom lies between Tibet and India. Its remoteness has made it unique, as William Jenkins' photographs show.

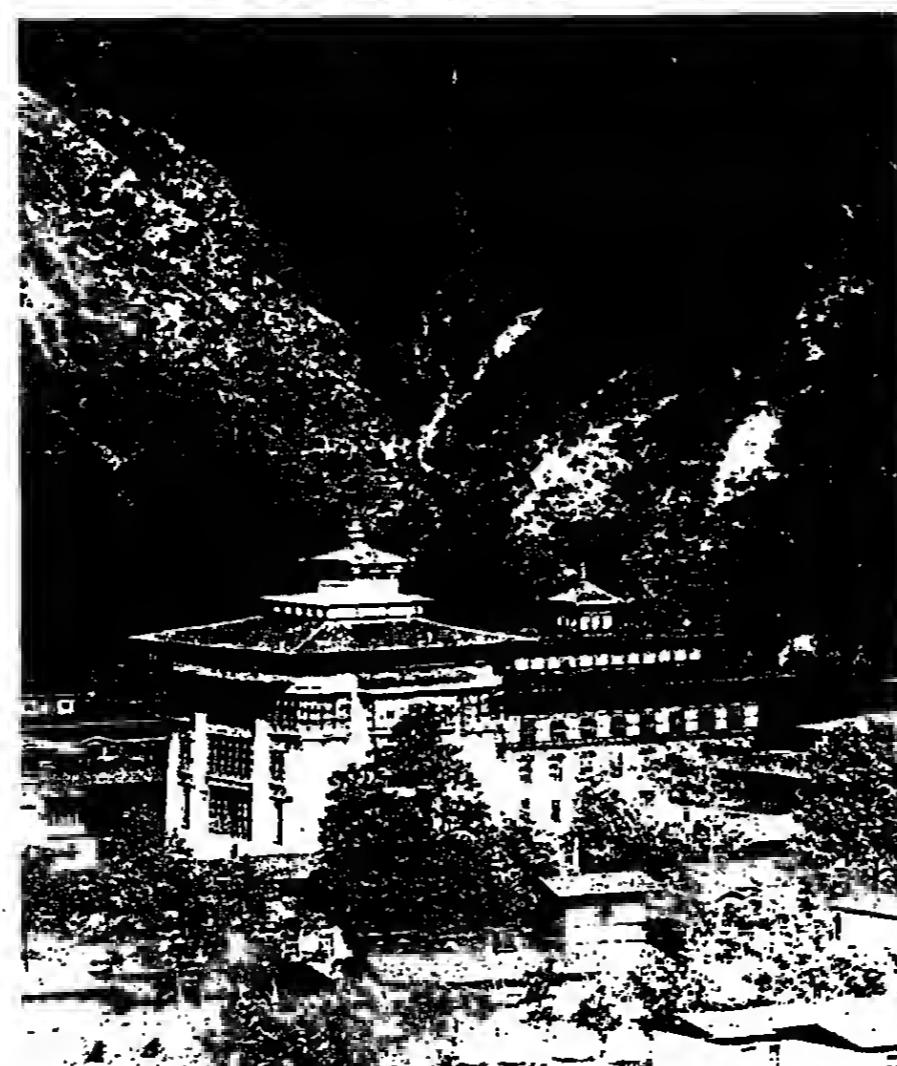

KING : Jigme Singye Wangchuk on his coronation day at the age of sixteen

SOLDIERS : members of the Royal Guard at rest

DRUMMERS : drums and cymbals are a part of every festival

CAPITAL : the government palace in Thimphu, a city of 20,000 inhabitants

CORONATION : water-carriers take part in the ceremony

SHOPS : little bigger than doll's houses in the capital, Thimphu

SCHOOLBOY : most children are taught in dzongka, the traditional Bhutanese language

DRESS : traditional costume is compulsory in the capital city

With 14 point finish

Erving helps Philadelphia edge Pacers

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP) — The Indiana Pacers were coasting along with a 13-point lead over the powerful Philadelphia 76ers Tuesday night when forward Mike Bantom made a big mistake: he got Julius Erving angry.

"You don't want to get guys like the Doc upset," observed Billy Cunningham, coach of the Philadelphia 76ers, "because they just take it upon themselves to win the game."

And when Erving — alias Dr. J, or the Doc — asks for the basketball, anyone with any sense gives it to him. The Sixers did just that and Erving responded with 14 points in the final six minutes as Philadelphia outscored Indiana 22-7 to pull out a 109-107 victory.

It was the seventh consecutive victory for the Sixers, whose 30-4 record is the best in the National Basketball Association.

In other games, the Atlanta Hawks breezed to a 131-114 victory over the New Jersey Nets. The New York Knicks beat the Utah Jazz 112-97, the Chicago Bulls edged the Washington Bullets 96-94, the San Antonio Spurs defeated the Dallas Mavericks 89-83, the San Diego Clippers torched the Los Angeles Lakers 97-92 and the Kansas City Kings outscored the Denver Nuggets 133-118.

Hawks 131, Nets 114: Atlanta scored a season-high 45 points in the first quarter, including 16 by John Drew, and coasted to its fifth straight victory.

New Jersey, losing for the fifth time in a row despite a career-high 28 points by rookie guard Darvin Cook, trailed 45-18 after the first 12 minutes and came no closer than 11 points after that.

Knicks 112, Jazz 97: Bill Cartwright and Campy Russell scored 22 points apiece and five other New York players scored in double figures as the Knicks handed Utah its sixth straight defeat. Jazz forward Adrian Dantley, the NBA scoring champion, finished with a game-high 27 points.

Clippers 97, Lakers 92: center Swen Nater's 22 points and 14 rebounds helped San Diego snap the Lakers' five-game winning streak despite 32 points by Lakers pivotman Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who made 15 of 18 field goal attempts.

Kings 133, Nuggets 118: Kansas City's guards dominated Denver as Orfa Birdsong scored 36 points and Phil Ford added 30 points and 16 assists. The Kings led by just three going into the final period but pulled away thanks to a blistering fast break keyed by Ford.

Bulls 96, Bullets 94: guard Reggie Theus grabbed the rebound of a missed shot by backcourtmate Ricky Sobers and sank the winning field goal for Chicago with two seconds remaining. Theus led the Bulls with 23 points.

Spurs 89, Mavericks 83: San Antonio squandered an early 16-point advantage and a 14-2 Dallas spurt gave the Mavericks a 77-76 lead before guards George Gervin and James Silas combined for 10 straight points to put the Spurs back in front. Gervin, the three-time NBA scoring champion, finished with a game-high 27 points.

Clippers 97, Lakers 92: center Swen Nater's 22 points and 14 rebounds helped San Diego snap the Lakers' five-game winning streak despite 32 points by Lakers pivotman Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who made 15 of 18 field goal attempts.

Kings 133, Nuggets 118: Kansas City's guards dominated Denver as Orfa Birdsong scored 36 points and Phil Ford added 30 points and 16 assists. The Kings led by just three going into the final period but pulled away thanks to a blistering fast break keyed by Ford.

Bulls 96, Bullets 94: guard Reggie Theus grabbed the rebound of a missed shot by backcourtmate Ricky Sobers and sank the Expectations proven too high as 1980 closes

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP) — It had the expectations of a banner year for track and field, but 1980 ended with some disappointments. It was an Olympic year, but the games were tarnished by the absence of many boycotting nations and by controversial officiating by Russian judges.

It was a year in which Britons Sebastian Coe and Steve Ovett, the world's best middle-distance runners, finally met head-to-head twice — but the races were anticlimactic and the results were indecisive.

It was a year in which it appeared that open competition would make a strong breakthrough with lucrative cash prizes for the top finishers in long-distance races, but the idea did not materialize.

It was a year in which Finland's Jasse Viren attempted to become perhaps the greatest long-distance runner in Olympic history by winning two gold medals for the third consecutive time, but the flying Finn failed to win even a medal, never mind a gold.

It was a year in which another double gold medalist from the 1976 Olympics, Alberto Juantorena of Cuba, also failed to repeat in the summer games.

It was a year in which Irena Szewinska of Poland, the outstanding women's track and field performer in Olympic history, was unable to extend her medal streak to five consecutive games.

Still, the year produced some notable results, including 44 world records, equally divided with 22 for men and 22 for women.

The top record-breakers were Ovett, Coe, Americans Edwin Moses and Mary Decker, Poland's Wladyslaw Kozakiewicz, East Germany's Gerd Wessig, West Germany's Guido Kratschmer, Russia's Nadezhda Tkachenko and Norway's Grete Waitz.

There were distinguished performances by Ethiopia's Miruts Yifter, Scotland's Allan Wells, East Germans Waldemar Cierpinski and Jutta Domrowski, Italy's Pietro Mennea, Britain's Daley Thompson, and Americans Bill Rodgers, Alberto Salazar and Craig Virgin.

The summer Olympics, staged in a communist country for the first time, were dominated by the Russians, especially in track and field, where the host country accumulated 41 medals, including 15 golds.

The results delighted the capacity crowds of some 100,000 who jammed Lenin Stadium for the eight days of competition.

The officiating by the Soviet judges came under much worldwide criticism. The international Amateur Athletic Federation, the governing body of the sport, had left the on-field officiating strictly up to Russian judges for the first and there were many disputed decisions.

After the controversial calls gave the Russians gold medals in the men's discus, the javelin and the triple jump, the IAAF put its red-jacketed jury of appeals onto the field, as it had for all previous Olympic games.

Meanwhile, the heralded confrontations in the 800- and 1,500-meter races between Coe and Ovett drew most of the attention. The two had not met in two years, and were reported bitter rivals, although both said their personal differences were widely exaggerated.

Nastase wins challenge game

By Shahid Orakzai
Special Correspondent

KARACHI, Dec. 17 — Ilie Nastase of Romania defeated Pakistan's Saeed Meer in a three-set challenge match at KMC's cement courts Tuesday evening.

The Romanian quickly adjusted himself and judging the pace and the bounce of the cement surface recovered to a convincing victory after losing the first set 1-6.

Izmir gold medalist Saeed Meer played one of the best games of his career and his fast service correctly landing found the Romanian opponent on the wrong foot.

Nastase who won 1-6, 6-3, 6-4 showed remarkable control over his shots. His service, though not very fast, did have the required sting to beat Meer many a time.

Saeed broke Nastase's serve three times in the first set but failed to maintain the form in subsequent sets. He twice double faulted and conceded games to Nastase who chased them and won both the sets. The Romanian also double faulted in second game but did not lose it.

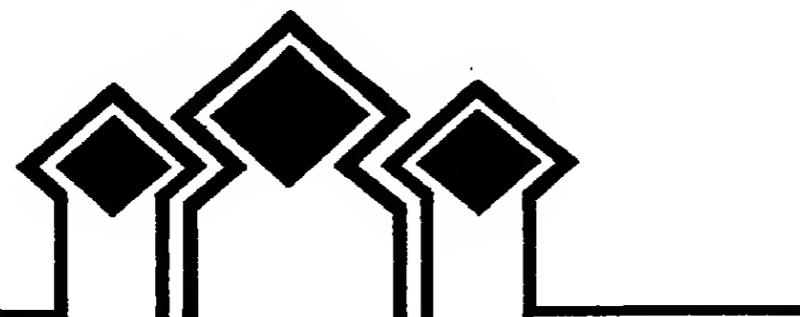

In the first set Saeed Meer, holding his own services twice succeeded in breaking Nastase's serve and won the set 6-1 in just 11 minutes.

In the second set the Romanian played some beautiful crosscourt shots and made marvellous returns changing the pattern in his favour. The third set saw some long rallies and superb placing by Nastase winning it 6-4.

THE TOYOTA CHAMPIONS ARE HERE

Come and see us at the 3rd
Jeddah Motor Show

Jeddah Expo Centre
5.0—10.0 pm
December 15th—21st

TOYOTA

ABDUL LATIF JAMEEL
BRANCHES IN: JEDDAH RIYADH DAMMAM
MECCA TAIF HUFUF
AL-KHOBAR

Kempes leads Valencia bid

VALENCIA, Spain, Dec. 17 (R) — Argentine World Cup star Mario Kempes will spearhead Spanish club Valencia's efforts to pry the European "super cup" from holders Nottingham Forest, when the two teams meet in the second leg match here Wednesday.

Holding a slender 2-1 lead from the first leg of this annual encounter between the victors of the European Cup and the European Cup-Winners' Cup, Forest will approach the match with some trepidation.

But the English club are past masters at holding on to narrow leads away from home.

With experienced players like Scottish international Ken Burns and ex-Liverpool star Larry Lloyd marshalling a defence boosted by Peter Shilton, one of the world's best goalkeepers, The European Cup-Holders will be a tough nut to crack.

Also, England international striker Trevor Francis will make his long awaited soccer comeback when he leads the Nottingham Forest attack.

Francis, who was the subject of Britain's first one million sterling (2.3 million dollars) transfer, severed the achilles tendon of his right ankle in a league match against Crystal Palace just over seven months ago.

But he has played seven reserve games recently, scoring nine goals, and Clough said Tuesday, "Francis is going back in at the deep end. This is the big match, the big occasion. If he survives, and I think he will, then it's back to league football again."

Some of Europe's best teams, including Ajax of Amsterdam, Hamburg, Barcelona and Liverpool (on more than one occasion) have found Forest too much for them.

But Forest can be brought down. Watford of the English second division earlier this season thrashed them 4-1 in a League Cup tie and Bulgarian champions CSKA of Sofia beat the European champions home and away in the Champions' Cup to knock them out of this season's competition.

Valencia, holders of the Cup-Winners' Cup, also suffered a shock in an early round of that competition this season when they were beaten by Karl Zeiss Jena of East Germany 3-2 on aggregate.

HOTEL AL BOUHAIRAH ABHA

Tel: 07 224-6458/6459/6461
Fax: 901006 BASIRI SJ.

Form new opening pair Chauhan joins Gavaskar

SYDNEY, Dec. 17 (AP) — Tough Indian opener Chetan Chauhan will partner his skipper Sunil Gavaskar in the Benson and Hedges cup clash with Australia at the Sydney Cricket Ground here Thursday.

India will field their test opening pair on the SCG strip against Dennis Lillee and Len Pascoe in preparation for the first test commencing January 2.

Chauhan didn't play in the Melbourne one day cup clash and the doughty fighter has the reputation of wearing down the most hostile of opening attacks.

Team manager Wing Commander Shahid Durani said "Chetan Chauhan and Gavaskar are our two most successful openers on the international scene and should give us a good start."

Kapil Dev, the main weapon in the Indian pace armoury, bad several wickets with the white ball but didn't work up a sweat.

But the athletically built, 21 year old moved the ball of a length often enough to show glimpses of the talent which has earned him 100 test wickets.

The man who stepped into Bishen Bedi's shoes, left arm spinner Dilip Doshi, plugged away in the nets with tempting flight and direction.

At 33, and only a few months younger than Chauhan, Doshi made a late entry onto the first class scene but has been conditioned by English county cricket and already has the scalps of Greg Chappell, Allan Border and Doug Walters from the Melbourne encounter.

The Indians have great depth on the batting lineup and bat down to at least number eight.

But the nagging, unsaid, problem is the total lack of any experience under lights.

The only player to have any experience of that is skipper Gavaskar.

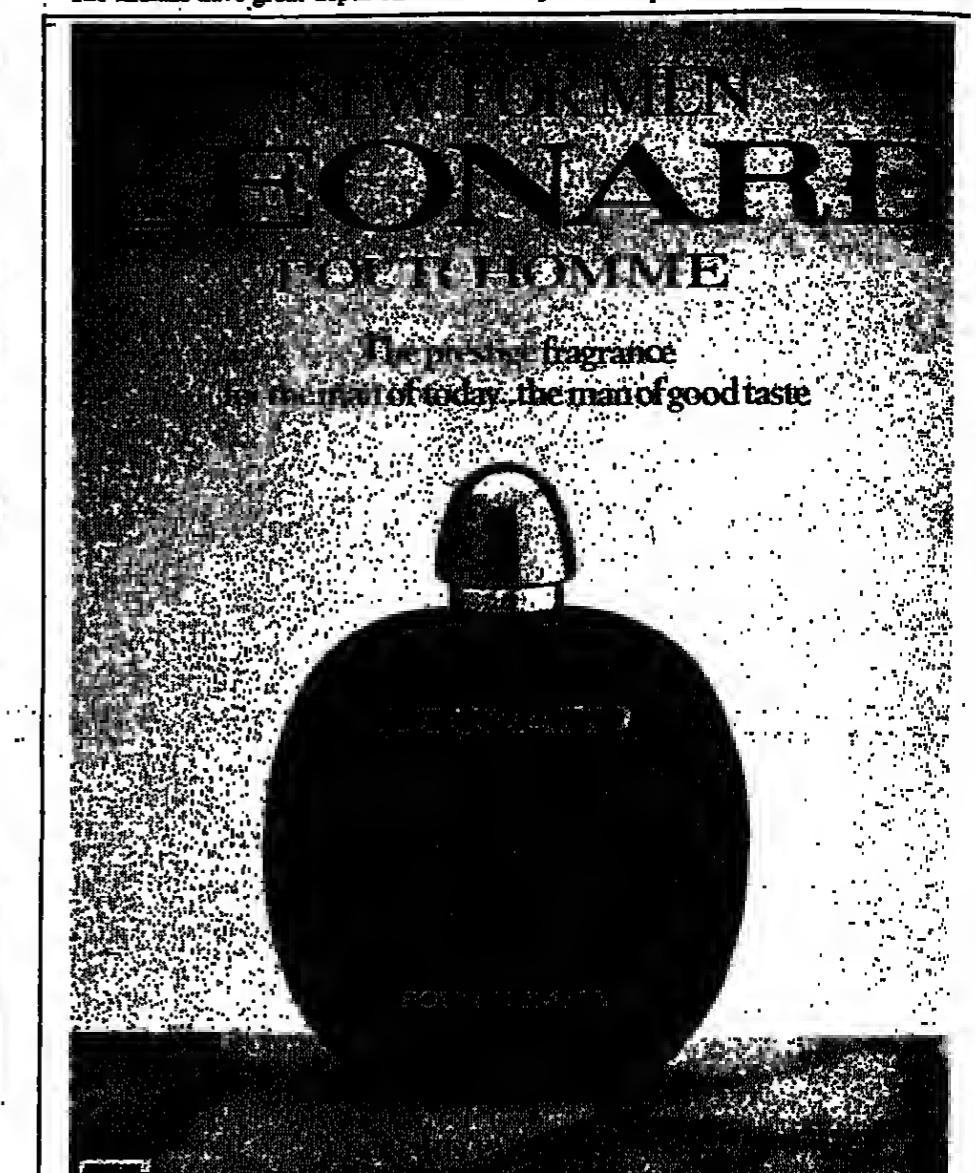

Faqih defies West Indies

By Shahid Orakzai
Special Correspondent

BAHWALPUR, Pakistan, Dec. 17 — A splendid 78 by Ejaz Faqih, 6th in batting order, helped the combined eleven to escape the embarrassment of follow-on in their 3-day match against West Indies which was almost written off as a draw.

The Windies after a solid 380 for five declared their first innings and were able to snatched 7 wickets by the stumps on the second day for only 163 runs. The combined eleven needed 68 more to escape follow-on which they saved just by two runs ending their innings at 232.

Faqih, unbeaten 35 overnight, batted with authority and executed forceful shots to lead the rearguard action with Naem Ahmed and Dara Bashir. Reaching fence 14 times Faqih accomplishment but their innings ended just after the danger was averted as Joel Garner yorked Faqih.

Royal Commission For Jubail & Yanbu

DIRECTORATE GENERAL JUBAIL PROJECT MADINAT-AL-JUBAIL-AL-SINAIIYAH.

SURPLUS ASSETS SALE LOTS 1 TO 5

THE ROYAL COMMISSION FOR THE JUBAIL PROJECT ANNOUNCE THE SALE BY SEALED BID OF THE FOLLOWING SURPLUS ASSETS.

- LOT: 1 BEDDING.
- LOT: 2 HARD FURNITURE.
- LOT: 3 SOFT FURNISHING & LAMPS.
- LOT: 4 DOMESTIC APPLIANCES & AIRCONDITIONERS.
- LOT: 5 SUANA BATH UNITS.

BID DOCUMENTS MAY BE COLLECTED & THE MATERIALS INSPECTED DURING NORMAL WORKING HOURS AT THE OFFICES OF THE ROYAL COMMISSION, MADINAT-AL-JUBAIL ALSINAIIYAH, TELEPHONE NUMBER 833-3000 EXTENSION 4115. SEALED BIDS WILL BE RECEIVED BY THE ROYAL COMMISSION NO LATER THAN 1400 HRS. ON MONDAY, JANUARY 5, 1981.

despite continued illness

Lendl punishes Casa in Sydney

SYDNEY, Dec. 17 (AP) — Czechoslovak Ivan Lendl, the number two seed in Nabisco New South Wales Mens Open tennis championships, was a young man in a hurry here, as he blasted his way past unc's Christopher Casa 6-1, 6-0, in a match which took less than one hour.

Lendl, 20-year-old, has had a meteoric rise, and a half year on the international circuit, to become the world's number six seed. The Czechoslovakian youngster had troubles with a bout of influenza as arriving in Australia last Friday. But, he certainly showed no signs of the illness Tuesday.

Lendl admitted that he is not the ideal grass court competitor and was out here primarily to learn the game. "I am always trying to get through my matches as quickly as possible because the longer you stay out on the court, the more time you have to cause an injury or let your opponent start hitting the ball better than you," Lendl said.

Lendl was not shy about admitting that he has a lot to learn about the game and would like someone to help him. "I really do not know what to do on grass," Lendl said. "I have just had six or seven matches on grass in my two and a half years on the circuit, and I probably need help."

"I am searching for someone to help me, but it takes so long. Now, when I have problems with my technique, I have to go back to the basics that I was taught when I was very young." Lendl's next match is against the young American, Jay Lapidus. Yannick Noah, another 20 year old, and France's number one ranked player, showed some marvellous aggression and power to beat the highly rated Australian Peter Peigl, 6-4 7, 6 in another first round match.

Noah, like Lendl, is much more at home on the slower clay courts. Noah said he was out here to gain experience on grass courts.

American Brian Teacher, the number eight seed, was too experienced with his serve-volley game and beat France's number two, Pascal 6-4, 6-3 in a comfortable first round victory. One of the surprise results came when American Peter Rennert beat Australia's Davis Cupper, Peter McNamara 6-3, 6-3 in a first round.

Downhill slope reshaped

ALTMARKT, Austrian Alps, Dec. 17 (AP) — Race organizers were forced to reshape the finishing straight for Wednesday's Women's World Cup Downhill after several skiers fell during Tuesday's trials.

Unluckiest of those who come to grief over bumpy last stretch was Canadian Laurie sham. The 20-year-old from Inglewood, finished fifth last week at Piancavallo, twisted her ankle and will be forced to use crutches for a while.

World Cup favorite Marie-Therese Nadig of Switzerland was another faller, although she slithered out on the second run after posting the fastest time on the first run.

With two extra gates included to slowdown the finish, Doris de Agostini of Switzerland clocked the fastest time of 1:30.5, ahead of two Australians Lee Soellner of 1:31.19 and Ingrid Eberley (1:30.43).

skiing, golf survive despite recession

RENBOLE, Dec. 17 (AP) — The French Alps are as popular as ever for skiers year despite the combined effects of soaring hotel prices and economic recession.

During the last ten years, the numbers skiing in French winter resorts has tripled, from four million French and 540,000 foreign tourists for the 1979/80 season. With more than 700,000 beds available, this bonanza of winter sportsmen has boosted local coffers and ensured employment for 100,000 people.

The ten to 15 per cent rises in hotel and lift prices since last year is the main reason for the increase in the cost of a skiing holiday. Skiing equipment has gone up too, but only five to ten per cent with daily ski-lift fees rising by an average 12 per cent.

Although the total prize money does not quite reach the magic two million pounds mark, it is not far short. Altogether, in events so far announced, prize money will be 1,892,000 pounds, an increase of nearly still an attractive alternative, however, with most winter resorts dropping their prices by as much as 30 to 40 per cent.

The French Alps are better equipped than ever this season with several hundred new ski-lifts having been constructed and a greater variety of slopes are now on offer for the more adventurous skiers. As regards skiing equipment, longer skis are back in vogue after the inroads made since the introduction of more compact skis since 1976, while the Italian developed boots which reach up until just under the knee are gaining in popularity.

And despite the recession, golf continues to boom. Once again the tournament schedule of the European Tournament Players Division for 1981, announced in London, shows an increase over the previous year.

Although the total prize money does not quite reach the magic two million pounds mark, it is not far short. Altogether, in events so far announced, prize money will be 1,892,000 pounds, an increase of nearly 100,000 pounds over the current year.

Most of the increase comes from the continental section of the tour, with the Italian open leading the category, increasing its prize money from 32,000 pounds to 50,000 pounds, and the Madrid open showing a 34 per cent increase.

The tour begins with the Madrid Open from April 23-26 and, after the Italian and French opens, makes its first appearance in Britain at the Martini International taking place at Wentworth from May 14-17.

76ers sneak by Pacers

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 17 (AP) — Julius Erving scored 30 points Tuesday night, including 12 during a furious fourth-quarter rally and a clinching pair of free throws with eight seconds remaining, leading the Philadelphia 76ers to a 109-107 National Basketball Association victory over the Indiana Pacers.

In Maryland, Reggie Theus rebounded a missed shot by Ricky Sobers and sank the winning field goal with two seconds remaining, giving the Chicago Bulls a 96-94 N.B.A. victory over the Washington Bullets.

In Atlanta action, John Drew scored 16 of the Atlanta Hawks' season-high 45 first quarter points as the Hawks coasted to a 131-114 victory over the New Jersey Nets. In a National Basketball Association game,

Soccer team to sponsor snooker tournament

LONDON, Dec. 17 (AFP) — John Courage, the Brewers, are to sponsor the first English professional snooker championships, to be played at Haden Hill Leisure Center, Sandwell, near Birmingham, from March 7 to 15.

Courage, who already have a massive link with the England Soccer team, are putting up total prize money of £3,050 pounds, with 4,000 pounds going to the eventual champion.

As well as attracting the big names of English snooker the event will also provide an opportunity for some of the lesser known men, who will compete in a qualifying competition before the final stages are decided by the last 16.

The top seed will be Fred Davis, ten times former World Snooker Champion and also winner of the U.K. and World Billiards championships. Among the other entrants, are John Spencer, Steve Davis, the 23-year-old new U.K. champion and John Puiman who has world championships to his credit.

The Courage sponsorship was welcomed by Mike Green, secretary of the World Professional Billiard and Snooker Association, who said: "It's a further step in establishing a permanent pro-snooker calendar."

To New York via Kuwait

Every Thursday Morning Departure from DHAHRAN 0800

Our SILVER SERVICE will make your trip a success

Contact your agent or

Al Khobar: 8642102 / 8642104
Riyadh: 4787603 / 4781576
Jeddah: 691044 / 691088
Jubail: Areen Travel
Al Khafji: ACE Travel

African wins disco championship

LONDON, Dec. 17 (AP) — A young black South African, Godfrey Raseroka, won World Disco Championship here Tuesday night.

Godfrey, who said he comes from a "fairly poor" family, trained by taking long distance school bus home.

He ten to 15 per cent rise in hotel and lift prices since last year is the main reason for the increase in the cost of a skiing holiday. Skiing equipment has gone up too, but only five to ten per cent with daily ski-lift fees rising by an average 12 per cent.

Although the total prize money does not quite reach the magic two million pounds mark, it is not far short. Altogether, in events so far announced, prize money will be 1,892,000 pounds, an increase of nearly 100,000 pounds over the current year.

Most of the increase comes from the continental section of the tour, with the Italian open leading the category, increasing its prize money from 32,000 pounds to 50,000 pounds, and the Madrid open showing a 34 per cent increase.

The tour begins with the Madrid Open from April 23-26 and, after the Italian and French opens, makes its first appearance in Britain at the Martini International taking place at Wentworth from May 14-17.

And despite the recession, golf continues to boom. Once again the tournament schedule of the European Tournament Players Division for 1981, announced in London, shows an increase over the previous year.

Although the total prize money does not quite reach the magic two million pounds mark, it is not far short. Altogether, in events so far announced, prize money will be 1,892,000 pounds, an increase of nearly 100,000 pounds over the current year.

Most of the increase comes from the continental section of the tour, with the Italian open leading the category, increasing its prize money from 32,000 pounds to 50,000 pounds, and the Madrid open showing a 34 per cent increase.

The tour begins with the Madrid Open from April 23-26 and, after the Italian and French opens, makes its first appearance in Britain at the Martini International taking place at Wentworth from May 14-17.

And despite the recession, golf continues to boom. Once again the tournament schedule of the European Tournament Players Division for 1981, announced in London, shows an increase over the previous year.

Although the total prize money does not quite reach the magic two million pounds mark, it is not far short. Altogether, in events so far announced, prize money will be 1,892,000 pounds, an increase of nearly 100,000 pounds over the current year.

Most of the increase comes from the continental section of the tour, with the Italian open leading the category, increasing its prize money from 32,000 pounds to 50,000 pounds, and the Madrid open showing a 34 per cent increase.

The tour begins with the Madrid Open from April 23-26 and, after the Italian and French opens, makes its first appearance in Britain at the Martini International taking place at Wentworth from May 14-17.

And despite the recession, golf continues to boom. Once again the tournament schedule of the European Tournament Players Division for 1981, announced in London, shows an increase over the previous year.

Although the total prize money does not quite reach the magic two million pounds mark, it is not far short. Altogether, in events so far announced, prize money will be 1,892,000 pounds, an increase of nearly 100,000 pounds over the current year.

Most of the increase comes from the continental section of the tour, with the Italian open leading the category, increasing its prize money from 32,000 pounds to 50,000 pounds, and the Madrid open showing a 34 per cent increase.

The tour begins with the Madrid Open from April 23-26 and, after the Italian and French opens, makes its first appearance in Britain at the Martini International taking place at Wentworth from May 14-17.

And despite the recession, golf continues to boom. Once again the tournament schedule of the European Tournament Players Division for 1981, announced in London, shows an increase over the previous year.

Although the total prize money does not quite reach the magic two million pounds mark, it is not far short. Altogether, in events so far announced, prize money will be 1,892,000 pounds, an increase of nearly 100,000 pounds over the current year.

Most of the increase comes from the continental section of the tour, with the Italian open leading the category, increasing its prize money from 32,000 pounds to 50,000 pounds, and the Madrid open showing a 34 per cent increase.

The tour begins with the Madrid Open from April 23-26 and, after the Italian and French opens, makes its first appearance in Britain at the Martini International taking place at Wentworth from May 14-17.

And despite the recession, golf continues to boom. Once again the tournament schedule of the European Tournament Players Division for 1981, announced in London, shows an increase over the previous year.

Although the total prize money does not quite reach the magic two million pounds mark, it is not far short. Altogether, in events so far announced, prize money will be 1,892,000 pounds, an increase of nearly 100,000 pounds over the current year.

Most of the increase comes from the continental section of the tour, with the Italian open leading the category, increasing its prize money from 32,000 pounds to 50,000 pounds, and the Madrid open showing a 34 per cent increase.

The tour begins with the Madrid Open from April 23-26 and, after the Italian and French opens, makes its first appearance in Britain at the Martini International taking place at Wentworth from May 14-17.

And despite the recession, golf continues to boom. Once again the tournament schedule of the European Tournament Players Division for 1981, announced in London, shows an increase over the previous year.

Although the total prize money does not quite reach the magic two million pounds mark, it is not far short. Altogether, in events so far announced, prize money will be 1,892,000 pounds, an increase of nearly 100,000 pounds over the current year.

Most of the increase comes from the continental section of the tour, with the Italian open leading the category, increasing its prize money from 32,000 pounds to 50,000 pounds, and the Madrid open showing a 34 per cent increase.

The tour begins with the Madrid Open from April 23-26 and, after the Italian and French opens, makes its first appearance in Britain at the Martini International taking place at Wentworth from May 14-17.

And despite the recession, golf continues to boom. Once again the tournament schedule of the European Tournament Players Division for 1981, announced in London, shows an increase over the previous year.

Although the total prize money does not quite reach the magic two million pounds mark, it is not far short. Altogether, in events so far announced, prize money will be 1,892,000 pounds, an increase of nearly 100,000 pounds over the current year.

Most of the increase comes from the continental section of the tour, with the Italian open leading the category, increasing its prize money from 32,000 pounds to 50,000 pounds, and the Madrid open showing a 34 per cent increase.

The tour begins with the Madrid Open from April 23-26 and, after the Italian and French opens, makes its first appearance in Britain at the Martini International taking place at Wentworth from May 14-17.

And despite the recession, golf continues to boom. Once again the tournament schedule of the European Tournament Players Division for 1981, announced in London, shows an increase over the previous year.

Although the total prize money does not quite reach the magic two million pounds mark, it is not far short. Altogether, in events so far announced, prize money will be 1,892,000 pounds, an increase of nearly 100,000 pounds over the current year.

Most of the increase comes from the continental section of the tour, with the Italian open leading the category, increasing its prize money from 32,000 pounds to 50,000 pounds, and the Madrid open showing a 34 per cent increase.

The tour begins with the Madrid Open from April 23-26 and, after the Italian and French opens, makes its first appearance in Britain at the Martini International taking place at Wentworth from May 14-17.

And despite the recession, golf continues to boom. Once again the tournament schedule of the European Tournament Players Division for 1981, announced in London, shows an increase over the previous year.

Although the total prize money does not quite reach the magic two million pounds mark, it is not far short. Altogether, in events so far announced, prize money will be 1,892,000 pounds, an increase of nearly 100,000 pounds over the current year.

Most of the increase comes from the continental section of the tour, with the Italian open leading the category, increasing its prize money from 32,000 pounds to 50,000 pounds, and the Madrid open showing a 34 per cent increase.

The tour begins with the Madrid Open from April 23-26 and, after the Italian and French opens, makes its first appearance in Britain at the Martini International taking place at Wentworth from May 14-17.

And despite the recession, golf continues to boom. Once again the tournament schedule of the European Tournament Players Division for 1981, announced in London, shows an increase over the previous year.

Although the total prize money does not quite reach the magic two million pounds mark, it is not far short. Altogether, in events so far announced, prize money will be 1,892,000 pounds, an increase of nearly 100,000 pounds over the current year.

Most of the increase comes from the continental section of the tour, with the Italian open leading the category, increasing its prize money from 32,000 pounds to 50,000 pounds, and the Madrid open showing a 34 per cent increase.

Arab News Market Place

SAUDI MARITIME AGENCIES

Have the pleasure in announcing their vessel

RO/RO "RAAD"

Now in Marseille (France) and shall be loading cargo for Jeddah from 15-1-1981 to 18-1-1981 with E.T.A. Jeddah Islamic Port around 23-1-1981.

For booking spaces to load cargo from Marseille to Jeddah please call us on the following address:

SAUDI MARITIME AGENCIES
2nd floor, El-Hadda (Binzagr) building, New street Jeddah.
Telephone: 6427720 / 6426727 Telex: 401563 - CID SJ.

VACANCY FOR BOOKKEEPER

Good Previous Experience Required. English Speaking Transferable Iqama Write with details to box: 7478 Riyadh.

FOR RENT
Khalidat

6 Villa Compound with Central A/C Swimming Pool Excellent Location Contact : 8643083, 8649651

FOR RENT
MURA BUSTAN COMPOUNDS

Two + three bedroom villas furnished or unfurnished with swimming pool - tennis court - squash court - play area - gardens video T.V. professional maintenance.

Contact Mr. GUY BURGESS: 6826096 - 6824539, Jeddah

AZIZ GIFTS

On the occasion of the New Year's EVE , Aziz gifts offer a big special sale as from 10 Dec., 1980 to First Jan., 1981.

With compliments of
A. AZIZ ABDUL SHAKOUR
Jeddah - Medina Road - Kaki Centre
Tel. 6693520

FOR SALE

ZINDA - ASPHALT/CONCRETE STABILIZATION PLANT
PRODUCTION CAPACITY 150T/HR. - 380 VOLT-50 HZ
USED. IN VERY GOOD CONDITION.
CONTACT :
TELEPHONE NO. 6448812
6447812/Extn. 181.

ARMASKAREQUIRED IMMEDIATELY

- ELECTRONICS ENGINEER : (Installation and maintenance of V.H.F. & H.F. equipment.)
- ELECTRONICS TECHNICIAN
- DIESEL GENERATOR TECHNICIAN

Conditions.

- Minimum practical/field experience... 5 years, for all.
- Must have transferable Iqama.
- Applicants fulfilling these conditions should submit their applications, with address and tel No. to:

THE CONTRACTOR CO. LTD., P.O. BOX 5070, DAMMAM.

ANNOUNCEMENT

OUR EMPLOYEE MR. GEOFFREY ERNEST CHAPMAN HOLDER OF BRITISH PASSPORT NO. C. 054217.A. IS LEAVING VERY SOON THE COUNTRY. ANYONE WHO HAVE CLAIM AGAINST HIM MAY CONTACT M.S.J.V. PHONE NO. 4650714 AND WRITE TO P.O. BOX 4286 RIYADH, WITHIN ONE WEEK FROM TODAY.

Personnel of every description with Gulf experience available for immediate supply. Technocrats, engineers, accountants, hotel personnel, all-purpose clerks.

Rite Personnel, P.O.Box 5428, Dubai.
Tel: 233477, Telex: 68077 FALCON EM

Sale Of Construction Materials

ALL KINDS OF SURPLUS CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS FOR SALE.

LARGE USERS CONTACT:
857 8011 EXT. 1294 FOR FURTHER DETAILS.

VILLAS FOR RENT IN JEDDAH

Luxury villas for lease. Houses are 3 b/r; 2 bath/r, fully furnished. Amenities included central A/C; fully carpeted interior, G.E. Electric Kitchen and swimming pool in the compound.

Ideally situated near the American Embassy.

MAY BE LEASED SEPARATELY. Tel: 6690530, 6690596.

FOR SALE

GOOD 20 FT AND 40 FT CONTAINERS. DELIVERED TO SITE ANYWHERE IN THE KINGDOM.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT TONY WILKINSON ON RIYADH 4645201/4645202.

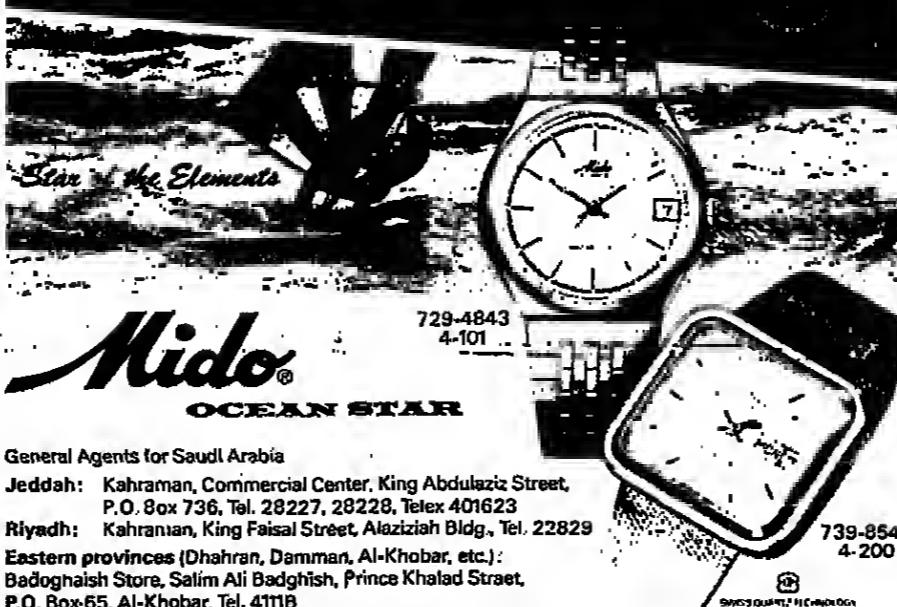

الشركة الخليجية الدانماركية للألبان المطهوة
GULF DANISH DAIRY Co. Ltd.

WANTED
VAN SALES MEN/DRIVERS

All applicants must have:-

- (1) Transferable Iqama.
- (2) Valid Saudi Driving License.
- (3) Fluency of Arabic and knowledge of English is preferable.
- (4) Previous sales experience.

For interview please phone 86-43440 or send application to P. O. Box 5360 Dammam.

KING OF WATERPROOF WATCHES

General Agents for Saudi Arabia
Jeddah: Kahraman, Commercial Center, King Abdulaziz Street,
P.O. Box 736, Tel. 28227, 28228, Telex 401623
Riyadh: Kahraman, King Faisal Street, Alazziz Bldg, Tel. 22829
Eastern provinces (Dhahran, Dammam, Al-Khobar, etc.):
Badghish Street, Salim Ali Badghish, Prince Khalid Street,
P.O. Box 65, Al-Khobar, Tel. 41116

ORRI NAVIGATION LINES
Dammam

NOTICE TO CONSIGNEES

The following vessels are expected to arrive Dammam under our agency:

VESSEL	Arrival (E.T.A.)	CARGO	FROM
MEGHNA	19-12-80	Gen/Onion	Bombay
MALDIVE PROGRESS	20-12-80	Rice/Timber	Singapore/Bangkok

RECENT SAILINGS:

VESSELS	ARRIVAL	SAILED	CARGO/FROM
OCEAN GLORY	13-12-80	15-12-80	General/Onion/Bombay
FUPING	13-12-80	15-12-80	General/China

All consignees having cargoes on above vessels are requested to contact us and to collect delivery order immediately from our office against submission of Original Bill of Lading or Bank Guarantee.

ORRI NAVIGATION LINES

P.O.Box 1504, Dammam, Saudi Arabia
Tel: 83 26644/83 26582, Telex: 601052 ORRI SJ

WANTEDCLERICAL ASSISTANT

for fast developing company in Jeddah Experienced required in:

- Statistics
- Filing
- Record Keeping
- Typing

Must have transferable Iqama and be available now

Must be fluent in Arabic and English

Please contact Chris Morin
Tel. 6446365, Jeddah

NEEDED

U.S. Geological Survey has openings for the following positions:

1. ELECTRONIC ENGINEER with minimum of two years experience.
2. ELECTRONIC TECHNICIANS with minimum of two years experience.

Applicants should read and write English.
Mail resume to: U.S. Geological Survey,
Attention: Mr. Habib M. Meryelani, Geophysics Section,
P.O. Box No. 1488, Jeddah, Saudi Arabia, or for appointment
please call Mr. Habib M. Meryelani. Telephone Nos. 6674188, 6674196, or 6691296

HAJI ABDULLAH ALIREZA & CO.LTD., JEDDAH

AGENTS OF

NIPPON YUSEI KAISHA

ANNOUNCE THE ARRIVAL OF

m.v. PIONEER RUNNER V-5

(CAR CARRIER)

ON 17-12-80 (E.T.D. 18-12-80)

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:
SHIPPING DEPARTMENT, 12TH FLOOR ALIREZA CENTRE
KING ABDUL AZIZ STREET, P.O. BOX 7158, JEDDAH (S.A.)
CABLE: ZAINALREZASHIP
TELEX: 401037 ZEREZA SJ, PHONE: 6422223 EXT. 313-360-298

MISC-ARABIAN CONTAINER LINE

FAR EAST / ARABIAN GULF EXPRESS SERVICE

ANNOUNCE

THE SAILING OF ITS FULLY CONTAINERISED VESSEL

M.V. AMADO VOY-052

E.T.A. DAMMAM 19-12-1980

LOADED FROM:
TOKYO, KOBE, HONGKONG
SINGAPORE, KEELUNG, KAOHSIUNG

Consignees are requested to obtain delivery orders on production of original Bill of Lading or Bank guarantee from their agents:

ORRI NAVIGATION LINES

P.O.BOX 1504,
AL ZAMIL BUILDING, PRINCE MOHAMMED STREET
DAMMAM.TEL:8326644/8326582,Telex:601052 A/B ORRI SJ

كُنْ سَعُودِيًّا - وَاشْتَرِبْسَاعَةً سَعُودِيَّةً

ASHEMIMRY

Pre-Engineered Building Systems.

Housing - Offices - Light Industrial. Office partitions fixed and movable

Jeddah, Tel: 6867850 - 6867266 P.O. Box: 3472, Thc 401414 ATC SJ.

الراي

النشرة السعودية للأبحاث والتسویق

ARIEB SERVICES
MAINTENANCE SPECIALISTS

FOR COMPLETE VILLA AND OFFICE MAINTENANCE
DIAL 465-6734

PLUMBING
MAINTENANCE AND REPAIRS
WE CLEAN AND FIX 'EM BEST'

ARIEB MARKETING
CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS
Tel. 465-6600 / 465-6856

PAGE 16

Iran makes 'corrections' to U.S. reply on terms

TEHRAN, Dec. 17 (Agencies) — The head of the supreme court said Wednesday Iran had made some "corrections" to the latest U.S. offer on terms for releasing 52 American hostages held in this country for more than 13 months. Ayatollah Beheshti, told a press conference that a U.S. proposal handed to the Iranian government on Dec. 4 could be "nearly an acceptable answer" to the conditions set by the Iranian parliament for freeing the captives.

"But there were some necessary corrections," Beheshti said. He refused to give details.

In Washington, officials in the administration of U.S. President Jimmy Carter reacted cautiously Tuesday to news from Iran that the United States need provide only "a financial War toys burned near Paris store

PARIS, Dec. 17 (AFP) — A dozen militants Wednesday demonstrated outside a department store against the sale to children of toy soldiers, tanks and warplanes by burning some on a bonfire.

They were led by Andre Dupont, who is standing for the presidential elections in April 1981 as an anti-nuclear candidate.

Pointing to a poster advertising a warlike doll in various postures on the battlefield, Dupont said, "Only the corpses are missing — but soon even they will be on sale, in miniature."

Eighteen deputies have already tabled a resolution in the national assembly against the sale of war toys "which stimulate children's violent instincts."

(AP photo)
MONUMENT : Polish labor leader Lech Wałęsa stands by a monument in Gdańsk to workers slain in food riots 10 years ago.

Garden gushes fire as gas harries W. Virginia town

JANE LEW, West Virginia, Dec. 17 (AP) — Gas bubbles out of the faucets in James and Anna Hoover's abandoned house. A 12-meter pillar of flame dances in the yard where they once raised vegetables.

All along an (800-meter) section of Interstate 69 on the outskirts of town, natural gas is slowly seeping out of the ground, into the houses. Windows and doors are left open for fear of an explosion. Gas bubbles to the surface of a nearby creek and a sour stench clings to the browning trees and bushes.

The Hoovers were evacuated to another house in September after their water well exploded into flames that shot up 18 meters. Only a red remains in their empty house, standing next to the front door they leave ajar.

The Hoovers' well is burning more than 2,800 cubic meters of gas a day, according to state officials, who say that 98 per cent of the leaking gas is 98 per cent highly explosive guarantee" to gain release of the hostages. Iran's parliament ruled on Nov. 2 that the U.S. should pledge non-interference in Iranian affairs, unblock frozen Iranian assets, drop legal claims against Iran and return the wealth of the late Shah. Since then there have been three exchanges between Washington and Tehran to the conditions, but hardly any details of the financial bargaining have been made public.

Prime Minister Muhammad Ali Rajai said Tuesday the U.S. could have the hostages back if it provided certain "financial guarantees." He said the next Iranian message would be sent soon and would be Tehran's last. Beheshti told his news conference that Iran hoped the hostage problem could be solved in the near future.

If Washington accepted the corrections, he said, "then both sides can begin the actual steps" — presumably leading up to the release of the Americans.

Responding to Rajai's statement, U.S. officials said they did not know what the guarantee might entail or whether Iran would impose other conditions. Iran's insistence on the return of the Shah's money has been a sore point with the U.S. Iran says the Pahlavi family fortune totals $32 billion. A spokesman for the Shah's survivors has put the total at less than $200 million. In fact, there is doubt within the U.S. administration that even that much remains in American banks. If Iran's call for a guarantee is based on $32 billion, it could pose a big problem.

Iran's official Pars news agency claimed 52 Iraqis died in both sectors of the snow-covered highlands in the western region of Gilan Gharb and in Khuzistan at the front's southern end. It conceded "three defenders" killed. Although war claims could not be independently verified, it was clear that neither side has made any ground gains into the stalemate of the other.

Mideast-based Western military analysts believe the rains of Khuzistan and the snow of the Zagros mountain foothills in western Iran permit no tide-turning offensive at either end of the battlefield in the five-month winter season which began in December.

In addition to the 52 Iraqi fatalities, Pars claimed 100 enemy troops were "either killed or wounded" in the highlands of the Ilam province, just south of Gilan Gharb. The string of the strategic heights that have been the scene of intense paratroop combat in the last three weeks command the closest highway routes from western Iran to Baghdad, the Iraqi capital some 161 kilometers to the west.

Pars said Iranian paratroopers and tribesmen in Ilam and Gilan locked in hand-to-hand combat with Iraqis. The Iraqi communiques said the enemy attempted a counterattack in the western highlands and it was "quickly and effectively scuttled."

Both sides reported rocket-firing helicopters raided each others' positions around the besieged Iranian oil refinery city of Abadan on the eastern shore of the embattled Shatt Al-Arab waterway.

The Iraqis say they have no immediate plans to enter into the beleaguered city of Abadan, whose giant oil refining complex provided 60 per cent of Iran's pre-war fuel needs. Field commanders still tell occasional visiting newsmen that they are waiting for government orders to mount the penetration assault.

Spokesman David Cotten, however, said recently that the "highest probability" is that the Consolidated field is leaking, despite there being no proof such is the case.

Cotten declined to comment on residents' fears of an explosion, but said, "We're taking it very seriously. We have a concern for the people and their safety."

Geologists say that although the stored gas could be shifting under pressure, they think a more likely explanation is that it is leaking from an old well. Or, Cotten suggested, Hoover might have hit a new gas field while drilling his water well.

The flow has slackened, however, since Consolidated reduced pressure in the reservoir after water wells began to erupt, according to state oil and gas conservation commission officials.

Consolidated work crews and drilling rigs have been busy for weeks. Gardens and fields have been ripped up as old gas wells are tested for leaks and plugged. Past and present residents are being asked to remember where old gas wells stood in the area.

"We just can't go in and start punching holes in the earth," Cotten said.

The state oil and gas conservation commissioner, Thomas Huzzey, said the state "prevailed" upon Consolidated to plug the gas flow. Two inspectors are monitoring the operation, he said.

Residents are unhappy that the state has essentially left the problem in Consolidated's hands. "They're just leaving it all to a big, sophisticated company to tell them the truth," Hoover said. "It's as if I robbed a bank and they expect you to bring in the evidence to convict yourself."

Huzzey said the company is best equipped to find the source of the gas. He said the state is monitoring the situation.

Algerian envoys wait in Tehran for Iran's reply on U.S. hostages.

Officials attend

Thousands mark Polish riots

GDYNIA, Poland, Dec. 17 (R) — Some 30,000 Poles gathered at dawn here Wednesday to commemorate workers killed in this Baltic port during a bloody labor revolt 10 years ago.

The ceremony, attended by representatives of the state, church and free trade union movement, was the second in a series to honor the 45 people killed and more than 1,000 injured in December 1970. The government was represented by Deputy Prime Minister Mieczyslaw Jagielski, Poland's chief strike negotiator, who signed the agreement in Gdansk last August which led to the creation of the Solidarity union.

The Baltic strikers had demanded the right to erect monuments to workers killed in the 1970 food price riots. The victims had previously been ignored by the state and honored only by dissidents.

The week of commemoration began Tuesday with the unveiling of a high monument in Gdansk at a ceremony attended by head of state Henryk Jablonski. At Wednesday's ceremony in nearby Gdynia, the mother of one of the shipyard workers killed here unveiled another monument, a four-meter high steel construction spelling out the year 1970.

The speaker said that for 10 years the authorities had persistently opposed the erection of such memorials, and had only relented under the pressure of last summer's strikes in the Baltic ports. The ceremony began with the singing of the national anthem and ended with a mass and a roll call of the dead.

Bishop Zygfryd Kowalski, who said the mass and consecrated the memorial, said it would become a symbol of faith, forgiveness, solidarity and love among all those who trust in God. The mood of the ceremony was subdued and solemn and the thousands in attendance slipped away silently after it was over.

In addition to the 52 Iraqi fatalities, Pars claimed 100 enemy troops were "either killed or wounded" in the highlands of the Ilam province, just south of Gilan Gharb. The string of the strategic heights that have been the scene of intense paratroop combat in the last three weeks command the closest highway routes from western Iran to Baghdad, the Iraqi capital some 161 kilometers to the west.

Pars said Iranian paratroopers and tribesmen in Ilam and Gilan locked in hand-to-hand combat with Iraqis. The Iraqi communiques said the enemy attempted a counterattack in the western highlands and it was "quickly and effectively scuttled."

Both sides reported rocket-firing helicopters raided each others' positions around the besieged Iranian oil refinery city of Abadan on the eastern shore of the embattled Shatt Al-Arab waterway.

The Iraqis say they have no immediate plans to enter into the beleaguered city of Abadan, whose giant oil refining complex provided 60 per cent of Iran's pre-war fuel needs. Field commanders still tell occasional visiting newsmen that they are waiting for government orders to mount the penetration assault.

Spokesman David Cotten, however, said recently that the "highest probability" is that the Consolidated field is leaking, despite there being no proof such is the case.

Cotten declined to comment on residents' fears of an explosion, but said, "We're taking it very seriously. We have a concern for the people and their safety."

Geologists say that although the stored gas could be shifting under pressure, they think a more likely explanation is that it is leaking from an old well. Or, Cotten suggested, Hoover might have hit a new gas field while drilling his water well.

The flow has slackened, however, since Consolidated reduced pressure in the reservoir after water wells began to erupt, according to state oil and gas conservation commission officials.

Consolidated work crews and drilling rigs have been busy for weeks. Gardens and fields have been ripped up as old gas wells are tested for leaks and plugged. Past and present residents are being asked to remember where old gas wells stood in the area.

"We just can't go in and start punching holes in the earth," Cotten said.

The state oil and gas conservation commissioner, Thomas Huzzey, said the state "prevailed" upon Consolidated to plug the gas flow. Two inspectors are monitoring the operation, he said.

Residents are unhappy that the state has essentially left the problem in Consolidated's hands. "They're just leaving it all to a big, sophisticated company to tell them the truth," Hoover said. "It's as if I robbed a bank and they expect you to bring in the evidence to convict yourself."

Huzzey said the company is best equipped to find the source of the gas. He said the state is monitoring the situation.

The flow has slackened, however, since Consolidated reduced pressure in the reservoir after water wells began to erupt, according to state oil and gas conservation commission officials.

Consolidated work crews and drilling rigs have been busy for weeks. Gardens and fields have been ripped up as old gas wells are tested for leaks and plugged. Past and present residents are being asked to remember where old gas wells stood in the area.

"We just can't go in and start punching holes in the earth," Cotten said.

The state oil and gas conservation commissioner, Thomas Huzzey, said the state "prevailed" upon Consolidated to plug the gas flow. Two inspectors are monitoring the operation, he said.

Residents are unhappy that the state has essentially left the problem in Consolidated's hands. "They're just leaving it all to a big, sophisticated company to tell them the truth," Hoover said. "It's as if I robbed a bank and they expect you to bring in the evidence to convict yourself."

Huzzey said the company is best equipped to find the source of the gas. He said the state is monitoring the situation.

The flow has slackened, however, since Consolidated reduced pressure in the reservoir after water wells began to erupt, according to state oil and gas conservation commission officials.

Consolidated work crews and drilling rigs have been busy for weeks. Gardens and fields have been ripped up as old gas wells are tested for leaks and plugged. Past and present residents are being asked to remember where old gas wells stood in the area.

"We just can't go in and start punching holes in the earth," Cotten said.

The state oil and gas conservation commissioner, Thomas Huzzey, said the state "prevailed" upon Consolidated to plug the gas flow. Two inspectors are monitoring the operation, he said.

Residents are unhappy that the state has essentially left the problem in Consolidated's hands. "They're just leaving it all to a big, sophisticated company to tell them the truth," Hoover said. "It's as if I robbed a bank and they expect you to bring in the evidence to convict yourself."

Huzzey said the company is best equipped to find the source of the gas. He said the state is monitoring the situation.

The flow has slackened, however, since Consolidated reduced pressure in the reservoir after water wells began to erupt, according to state oil and gas conservation commission officials.

Consolidated work crews and drilling rigs have been busy for weeks. Gardens and fields have been ripped up as old gas wells are tested for leaks and plugged. Past and present residents are being asked to remember where old gas wells stood in the area.

"We just can't go in and start punching holes in the earth," Cotten said.

The state oil and gas conservation commissioner, Thomas Huzzey, said the state "prevailed" upon Consolidated to plug the gas flow. Two inspectors are monitoring the operation, he said.

Residents are unhappy that the state has essentially left the problem in Consolidated's hands. "They're just leaving it all to a big, sophisticated company to tell them the truth," Hoover said. "It's as if I robbed a bank and they expect you to bring in the evidence to convict yourself."

Huzzey said the company is best equipped to find the source of the gas. He said the state is monitoring the situation.

The flow has slackened, however, since Consolidated reduced pressure in the reservoir after water wells began to erupt, according to state oil and gas conservation commission officials.

Consolidated work crews and drilling rigs have been busy for weeks. Gardens and fields have been ripped up as old gas wells are tested for leaks and plugged. Past and present residents are being asked to remember where old gas wells stood in the area.

"We just can't go in and start punching holes in the earth," Cotten said.

The state oil and gas conservation commissioner, Thomas Huzzey, said the state "prevailed" upon Consolidated to plug the gas flow. Two inspectors are monitoring the operation, he said.

Residents are unhappy that the state has essentially left the problem in Consolidated's hands. "They're just leaving it all to a big, sophisticated company to tell them the truth," Hoover said. "It's as if I robbed a bank and they expect you to bring in the evidence to convict yourself."

Huzzey said the company is best equipped to find the source of the gas. He said the state is monitoring the situation.

The flow has slackened, however, since Consolidated reduced pressure in the reservoir after water wells began to erupt, according to state oil and gas conservation commission officials.

Consolidated work crews and drilling rigs have been busy for weeks. Gardens and fields have been ripped up as old gas wells are tested for leaks and plugged. Past and present residents are being asked to remember where old gas wells stood in the area.

"We just can't go in and start punching holes in the earth," Cotten said.

The state oil and gas conservation commissioner, Thomas Huzzey, said the state "prevailed" upon Consolidated to plug the gas flow. Two inspectors are monitoring the operation, he said.

Residents are unhappy that the state has essentially left the problem in Consolidated's hands. "They're just leaving it all to a big, sophisticated company to tell them the truth," Hoover said. "It's as if I robbed a bank and they expect you to bring in the evidence to convict yourself."

Huzzey said the company is best equipped to find the source of the gas. He said the state is monitoring the situation.

The flow has slackened, however, since Consolidated reduced pressure in the reservoir after water wells began to erupt, according to state oil and gas conservation commission officials.

Consolidated work crews and drilling rigs have been busy for weeks. Gardens and fields have been ripped up as old gas wells are tested for leaks and plugged. Past and present residents are being asked to remember where old gas wells stood in the area.

"We just can't go in and start punching holes in the earth," Cotten said.

The state oil and gas conservation commissioner, Thomas Huzzey, said the state "prevailed" upon Consolidated to plug the gas flow. Two inspectors are monitoring the operation, he said.

Residents are unhappy that the state has essentially left the problem in Consolidated's hands. "They're just leaving it all to a big, sophisticated company to tell them the truth," Hoover said. "It's as if I robbed a bank and they expect you to bring in the evidence to convict yourself."

Huzzey said the company is best equipped to find the source of the gas. He said the state is monitoring the situation.

The flow has slackened, however, since Consolidated reduced pressure in the reservoir after water wells began to erupt, according to state oil and gas conservation commission officials.

Consolidated work crews and drilling rigs have been busy for weeks. Gardens and fields have been ripped up as old gas wells are tested for leaks and plugged. Past and present residents are being asked to remember where old gas wells stood in the area.

"We just can't go in and start punching holes in the earth," C